TORNADO AREA COUNTS KNOWN DEAD AT 132

Injured List Set at 1,305 as Rescue Crews Still Search for Bodies.

By The Associated Press

WOODWARD, Okla., April 11—The tornado-lashed panhandle area of Texas and Oklahoma counted its known dead at 132 and estimated the injured at 1,305 as rescue crews still searched for additional casualties in the ruins of the hardest hit towns.

The property loss, inflicted on the rich cattle and wheat area by the violent winds of Wednesday night and early Thursday, ran into the millions of dollars.

Field kitchens, emergency stations and other facilities were set up to care for the thousands of homeless. Bull dozers rumbled through the debris-cluttered communities clearing the wreckage. Relief supplies continued to move into the stricken area by plane, truck and train and restoration of communication and power facilities was progressing.

Casualty Toll

This was the casualty toll as listed by the Red Cross midwest area headquarters in St. Louis: Woodward, 85 dead, 1,000 or more injured; Higgins, Tex., 34 dead, 332 injured; Glazier, Tex., 13 dead, 40 injured; White Horse, Okla., none dead, 30 injured; Gray county, Tex., none dead, three injured.

Woodward, where 100 blocks of buildings were leveled, had more than 2,000 homeless out of a population of about 5,500. Many of them were being cared for by residents whose homes still were intact.

The property loss here was estimated at more than $5,000,000 by Alex Geismar, vice-president of a Woodward bank.

Citizens went about the task of preparing to rebuild their shattered or damaged homes and businesses.

Food was being trucked into the towns.

Guard Against Looting

State patrolmen augmented local police forces to help guard against looting of the wind-wrecked buildings.

The storm which began its devastation at White Deer, Tex., coursed through Glazier and Higgins in Texas and then into Oklahoma. Kansas felt the backlash of the tornadic winds. Damage was inflicted on four Kansas towns but no casualties were reported.

The states placed all available facilities at disposal of the stricken area and doctors and nurses were flown in from nearby cities and neighboring states.

Gov. Beauford Jester of Texas planned to visit the area today.

Bodies of some of the victims were badly battered, attesting to the ferocity of the storm. Clothing was ripped from many of the dead. Identification proceeded slowly because of the disfigured bodies.

Sounds Like Freight

Clyde Grim, 57, of Woodward, who was injured, gave this description of the storm:

"It sounded like the roar of a freight train. We didn't even know it was coming. The wind blew us outside to the ground. My wife is a Pentecostal. I remember the last I heard her saying was some Bible verses. She was praying.

"There were cars everywhere. Some were blown straight up on end, against things. People were running around. Everybody was excited and screaming. It was awful. I could hear a hissing and popping sound, like escaping steam. Electric wires were all over the ground."

Grim's wife was listed as dead.

In Glazier, Tex., a community of 200, only one building was left standing and volunteers guarded the wreckage against possible looting. Higgins, Tex., with a population of 750, was leveled except for three buildings, all brick.

Casualty lists were posted on a bulletin board in the Woodward community center and hundreds scanned the lists for names of relatives.

TORNADO LEAVES WOODWARD, OKLA., A TOWN OF SHAMBLES. Wrecked homes and splintered trees make up the town of Woodward, Okla., hardest hit of the Texas panhandle and northeastern Oklahoma area ravaged by Wednesday's tornado. Of the town's 5,500 inhabitants, 85 are known to be dead and 700 to 800 injured as a result of the storm that leveled 800 homes. (International News Soundphoto)

U.S. PROPOSES REICH PARLEY BE OPENED

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 11 — The United States proposed today that more than 50 nations participate in the German peace conference.

The plan was presented before the deputies for Germany of the council of foreign ministers. However, the deputies of Britain, Russia and France did not immediately accept it.

While the foreign ministers awaited a response from Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to a French request for the Saar under an autonomous local government, U. S. Ambassador Robert Murphy asked the deputies to approve the following as members of the peace conference:

The Big Four, the neighbors of Germany and all states at war with Germany.

The latter group would include the Latin American countries.

The German deputies reviewed numerous disagreements over plans for the peace conference, but none was resolved.

2 MORROW CO. CHILDREN HURT

Girl, 4, Brother, 5, Run Over by Truck as They Play in Driveway.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, April 11 — A four-year-old Morrow county girl and her five-year-old brother were in Galion City hospital today suffering from injuries received when they were run over by a truck as they played in a driveway near their grandmother's home here.

They are Diana and Ralph Scott, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scott of near Mt. Gilead. Galion hospital authorities said the children are in serious condition. The girl was reported suffering from a possible fractured skull, severe scalp lacerations and a fractured left shoulder and the boy from a double fracture of the left arm.

State highway patrolmen said the children were playing in the driveway of the H. L. Keeran residence, across the street from the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Clara Peoples, when a truck, driven by Roscoe Dennis of Cardington, struck them as it backed out of the driveway.

OFFICERS INSTALLED BY TRAFFIC CLUB

200 Here for Dinner of Central Ohio Group.

More than 200 members of the Central Ohio Traffic club met at Hotel Harding last night for their annual dinner and installation of officers.

New officers, elected by mail, were announced and installed by F. E. Ohler of Mansfield, retiring president. Following the installation an entertainment was held.

New officers are E. L. Konnell, general agent of the D. T. and I. railroad at Cleveland, president; Oscar Schaller, purchasing agent of Hughes-Keenan Manufacturing Co., Mansfield, first vice president; J. V. McEntee, representative of the Frisco railroad at Cleveland, second vice president; Howard Johnson, traffic manager of Dominion Electric Co. at Mansfield, secretary.

Members of the board elected were Stanley Lowe of the B. and O. railroad, Newark; E. O. Wagner, of the N. Y. C. railroad, Cleveland; E. S. Martin of Sun-Glow Industries, Mansfield; Kenneth S. Swank of the Shelby Cycle Co., Shelby; L. C. Deerman of the Deerman Transportation Co., Mansfield.

Several members of the club from Marion attended.

G. E. Sobers, traffic manager of Marion Power Shovel Co., was general chairman in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

The group is made up of traffic managers in industry and transportation, including railroad, truck and airline.

Hardin Co. Child Dies, Parents Hurt, In Fire Which Destroys Home

Special to The Star

KENTON, April 11—A three-year-old Hardin county boy was dead today and his parents were in Antonio hospital here suffering from severe burns after a stove explosion which resulted in a fire which destroyed their farm home near Belle Center, about 6 p. m. yesterday.

The boy, Roger Gene Wireman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonah Wireman, died in Antonio hospital at 9:36 p. m. yesterday. His mother was reported in serious condition, suffering from second and third degree burns over her entire body and the father from severe burns on the hands.

The accident occured about 6 p. m. when Mrs. Wireman attempted to kindle a fire in a kitchen stove with kerosene. Her husband suffered severe burns when he attempted to put out the blaze with his hands. The parents and the boy were taken to the hospital by a neighbor, Tom Jones. Two other sons, aged four and six, and two sisters of Mrs. Wireman, aged 12 and 14, escaped injury.

The Belle Center fire department was called but the home, a five-room tenant house, was destroyed. The building was owned by Ode Herring.

The body of the boy was taken to the Price Funeral home in Kenton.

Director Announces Liquor Rationing To End in Ohio Monday

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 11 — Liquor rationing will end in Ohio Monday, State Liquor Director Stanley B. Cofall announced today.

Sales of imported Scotch whisky still will be restricted, with state store employes under instructions to sell only one bottle to a customer, Cofall added.

"There will be no further rationing by card in the foreseeable future," the director said. "Should another emergency occur it will be dealt with as conditions require."

Ohio's 60th ration period in four years ends tomorrow and Director Cofall said the supply of bourbons and bonded whisky, which had been rationed, appeared sufficient. Scotch, however, is still available only in limited quantities, and the director remarked that shipments received would be divided equally between wholesale and retail outlets.

Ohio's liquor rationing program started June 1, 1945, because of wartime shortages of alcohol developing when distillers converted to war work such as synthetic rubber and industrial alcohol.

Various blends of whisky have been taken off the ration list in the last several months and the ration periods have been shortened.

Customers will find the restrictions lifted when the state liquor stores open Monday morning.

PEAK OF INFLATION PASSED, SOLON SAYS

Only Barrier to Lower Prices Production-Slowing Strikes.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 11 — Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich) said today "the peak of inflation has passed" and the only barrier to lower prices "is a slowing up of production as a consequence of strikes."

The Michigan Republican, who is chairman of the house banking committee manages legislation dealing with the nation's economy, made the statement to reporters in commenting on President Truman's declaration that if prices are not brought down wage increases will be justified.

Another Republican lawmaker, Senator Flanders (Vt), former head of the privately financed committee on economic development, said wage hikes now "would only make further price increases." He added:

"This would aggravate the situation and would do no good. It is to industry's own good to bring prices into line, to prevent a recession that so many seem to fear."

Rep. Spence (D-Ky), whom Wolcott succeeded as banking committee chairman in January, said he shares the President's concern over rising prices, adding: "If the Republican party doesn't [illegible]

JUNIORS AT EDISON TO PRESENT PLAY

"A Date with Judy" To Be Given May 1.

"A Date with Judy" is the comedy play to be presented by the junior class of Edison Junior High school Thursday, May 1, at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. Miss Barbara Axe, dramatic coach at the school, selected the play, the action of which centers around Judy Foster, a typical teen-ager, whose complicated affairs keep her family and friends in a whirl from beginning to end.

Rehearsals for the play are well underway and are reported to be progressing satisfactorily.

Members of the cast and their roles are as follows: Mary Lou Cornelius as Judy Foster; Dick Riddle and Darlene Ulrich as her bewildered parents; Dick Gherman as Randolph, Judy's kid brother; Edna Thomas and Jean Freese as Barbara and Mitzi, Judy's girl friends; James Bain as Dogie, Judy's boy friend; Robert Ault as Mr. Martindale, a Broadway producer; Claire Koeppen and Gloria Albert as Mrs. Hotchkiss, the wash woman, and her daughter, Eloise; Irene Sink as Hannah, the maid; James Williams as Mrs. Schlutzhammer, a jealous P.-T.A. worker; Don Showalter as Rex, the new boy in town; and Patty Leeper as Susie, his sister.

The student and faculty members are also working on their various committees. Tickets will be available within a few days from Edison pupils, and admission is 35 cents.

Happy Thought Class Has Dinner at Church

Members of the Happy Thought class of the First Evangelical and Reformed church entertained their husbands and families at a pot-luck supper Wednesday night at the church. Serving as hostess was Miss Dora Jacobs, with Mrs. Lawrence Jeffers as assistant hostess.

Bouquets of yellow jonquils decorated the tables and favors were miniature April shower sticks made by the hostesses. Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Wierth and family were also guests.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Jeffers and the Lord's Prayer was given by the class. Rev. Wierth gave the prayer at the table preceding the supper.

During the social hour, a king and queen were chosen from the group to reign during the evening. Selected were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brown of 412 South Grand avenue, who were also celebrating their thirty-third wedding anniversary that day. For the program, Alan Cleveland and Fredcrick Lacey gave two piano duo numbers and Miss Ann Hewetson gave a humorous reading.

Plans were made for the class to collect clothing for overseas relief instead of a rummage sale as originally planned. All clothes are to be brought to the basement of the church. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Howard Smith of 239 Pearl street, with Mrs. Carl Ebert as assistant hostess.

Pythians of County Attend Meeting Here

Four candidates were initiated into the knight rank when Marion Lodge 51, Knights of Pythias, met in its hall on West Center street Wednesday night.

Degree team in charge of the ceremony was made up of members from the Prospect and Green Camp lodges. Two of the candidates initiated were from the Marion lodge and two from the Green Camp lodge.

Members from the following lodges were present: Marion, Green Camp, Prospect, Waldo, Mt. Gilead, Morral and Caledonia.

Grand Chancellor J. C. Standen of Lorain gave the address of the evening and knighted candidates after the initiation.

Pythian Sisters Plan For Inspection April 23

Plans were made for inspection on April 23 at a meeting of Canby Temple No. 152, Pythian Sisters, last night. At this time also charter members and deputies were honored and the forty-seventh anniversary of the institution of the temple was observed.

Temples from cities and towns in nearby communities will be invited to join the members for the inspection. Mrs. Velma Everett was named chairman of a committee to arrange for decorations. A contribution of $5 was made to the campaign for the control of cancer and plans were made for a rummage sale April 19.

A potluck supper honored the charter members and was in celebration of the anniversary. The charter members, Mrs. Blanche Maass, Mrs. Ruth Shoots and Mrs. Clara Wetzel, and deputies Mrs. Gertrude Kinnear and Mrs. Mabel Peterson were presented gifts. A program was in charge of Mrs. Allie Eibling and Mrs. Mabel Peterson.

Marion Insurance Agent on Program

Harpster Mothers' Club Meets at Sheaffer Home

The Harpster Mothers' club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Donna Sheaffer with Mrs. Emma Neile Swiegard as co-hostess. Twenty-three members answered roll call by naming the gifts received from their mystery sisters. Mrs. Rose Tschantz reported on the Girl Scout meeting she attended Monday evening in Upper Sandusky. Mrs. Elizabeth McAlpin gave a report on the bun sale the Scouts conducted recently, and Mrs. Grace Wimer gave a report on the club play to be given April 18.

Mrs. Irma Myers read a selection of poems and a general discussion was held on "Chats with Parents." Mrs. Ruth Ella Snyder and Mrs. Genevieve Bookmyer were in charge of games and contests, with prizes going to Mrs. Frances Turney, Mrs. Frances Schwilk, Mrs. Kathryn Eaton, Mrs. Sara Maddon, Mrs. Helen Brents and Mrs. Vera Wade. Topics for the May meeting were assigned to Mrs. Rose Tschantz and Mrs. Grace Wimer, and Mrs. Myers led the group in singing a group of old time favorites. Guests were Mrs. Desda Gelbaugh, and Mrs. Evona Sheaffer, and Mrs. Dorothy Woolum was welcomed as a new member. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Smith with Mrs. June Moses as co-hostess.

OBSERVE BIRTHDAYS AT KIWANIS MEETING

Informal Session Held by Luncheon Club.

The Kiwanis club held an informal meeting at its weekly luncheon Thursday at Hotel Harding. Sixteen members of the club who celebrate birthday anniversaries in April were honored and seated at a table centered with a large birthday cake. Group singing was led by L. G. Jones, and several special musical numbers were given by William Dowler.

Two new members were inducted into the club by A. W. Kette, a member of the education committee. They are Dr. W. Neil Price, and John R. Parsons.

Also introduced as new members were Ray Reidenbaugh, Robert D. Graney, Verne F. Shroats and George T. Wilson. An announcement was made that the "ladies night" party will be held next Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at Hotel Harding.

Guests of the club were Elwood M. Smith of Brooklyn, Thomas E. Butz of Cleveland, John O'Connell of Burlingame, Calif., Sheridan T. Walker of Dayton, Gordon Gilman of Chicago, Ill., and Charles A. Eicher and J. E. Kerr of Marion.

New Dump Truck Delivered to County

Marion County Engineer Walter W. Johnson today announced delivery of the first of two Ford one and one-half ton dump truck, purchased by the county commissioners approximately one year ago.

The purchase was made from the McKinney Motor Sales, Inc. of North Main street and a dump body will be mounted on the truck by the Marion Metal Products Co. Complete purchase price, Mr. Johnson said, was $2,248.14.

Officers Elected By Gideon Groups

In election of the Marion camp of Gideons and auxiliary Tuesday night at First Evangelical United Brethren Community house, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crowner were reelected to serve as presidents of the two groups. Others elected to office in each group were Fred Dutt and Mrs. Dwight Goff, first vice presidents, and Mrs. Charles Feaver, second vice president of the women's organization; Marion Brown, men's secretary, and A. C. May, Bible secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Roy Kauble, women's secretary and treasurer, and Howard Jones and Mrs. Clifford Ward, chaplains. Separate business sessions were held. Three guests were present.

Speaker was Miss Nancy McKerlie Dodds, teacher of weekday religious education in the public schools. She reported about 99 per cent of pupils in four grades of the schools in the religious instruction classes, with consent of parents by signed card, a total of more than 2,000 children enrolled. Her praise for the arrangements in the Marion schools was high. Explaining how the program in each grade is taught, she stated that beginning with the third grade, the children are approached with the idea that "God is with us in every place," and a brief history of the life of Christ is studied. In the fourth grade a unit on Christian citizenship is introduced. The fifth grade has a course in Old Testament leaders, and the sixth grade studies the beginning of the church, meaning of Christ's cross, the Lord's supper, and other rites of the Christian religion.

Ford Buried on Farm Where He Was Born

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 11 — Henry Ford lay buried today beneath a sycamore tree that shaded his childhood days on the farm where he was born.

Hard by his simple plot of fresh-dug earth, the vast River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co. roared to life at midnight, its thundering assembly lines an impressive tribute to his name.

It had been closed since midnight Wednesday out of respect to his death Monday at the age of 83.

One of the world's richest men, Ford's funeral services Thursday were described by his Episcopal church as "intended for prince or pauper alike."

Thousands of persons stood in reverent silence beneath leaden skies outside St. Paul's cathedral during the ceremony.

Police said the crowd numbered 7,000 to 10,000.

Clay Products Workers In Three States Strike

By The Associated Press

UHRICHSVILLE, O., April 11 —Some 2,700 workers who produce about 60 per cent of the nation's clay products struck in three states today, union leaders said, following a breakdown in contract negotiations.

Clyde Myers, business agent for district council No. 9 of the AFL-United Brick and Clay Workers of America, said the walkouts occurred in 23 plants in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana.

Negotiations for a new contract collapsed in Akron Thursday, Myers said, and no further sessions have been scheduled.

Crestline Club Hears Dramatic Director

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, April 11 — The Crestline Kiwanis club met in the Y.M.C.A. Wednesday noon and heard an address by Miss Betty Strubel, director of the Junior Chamber of Commerce play, "Cornapoppin." Miss Struble, a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., is working out of Kansas city, in dramatic productions for amateurs over the country.

Singing was led by Rev. R. L. Van Scoy with Miss Irene Nungesser at the piano.

Plans were discussed for a ladies night to be held in the near future.

WEATHER INFLUENCE ON CROPS FEARED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 11—The weather may have strong influence over farm product and food price trends during the next several weeks.

This is because a late spring season has delayed crop planting operations in the eastern two-thirds of the country. Further delays could cut down on acreages finally planted, and hence reduce this year's production. Production prospects in turn affect prices.

Despite the slow farm progress, prospects point to the largest wheat crop on record. The department said yesterday the fall-sown winter wheat crop should produce 973,000,000 bushels as compared with 946,000,000 forecast last December and with 873,000,000 harvested last year.

For Ohio a yield of 23 bushels an acre was indicated with production of 51,037,000 bushels on 2,219,000 acres seeded to winter wheat.

Grain stocks on Ohio farms April 1 of this year and April 1, 1946, were listed by the department as: wheat 3,882,000 bushels (7,929,000 bu.); corn, 66,738,000 bushels (68,191,000 bu.); oats 23,027,000 bushels (18,624,000 bu.); and soy beans 2,763,000 bushels (3,489,000 bu.).

TREASURE ISLAND HIT BY $500,000 BLAZE

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11—Treasure Island, which glittered as the site of a pre-war exposition and then became a camouflage-painted naval base, was a scene of charred, water-soaked ruins today.

Fire struck the man-made island in San Francisco bay late yesterday. It destroyed five navy buildings and equipment at an estimated loss of $500,000. For a while the entire installation was threatened.

The bay area's largest assembly of equipment in history brought the fire under control after a three-hour fight. While it raged, huge clouds of smoke billowing into the sky were visible nearly 50 miles away.

Thirty-four persons, 29 navy men and five civilian firemen, were injured, none seriously. The 12th naval district's estimate of damage included electronics equipment valued at more than $100,000.

The cause of the fire was unknown.

An official navy board of inquiry was named to investigate. The navy said a statement probably would be issued in two or three days. Sabotage was not suspected, a spokesman said.

Treasure Island was the site of the 1939-1940 Golden Gate International exposition. At the start of the war it became a major navy personnel center.

All navy personnel were confined to the station after some looting had taken place among ships' stores, and supplies removed from buildings. All vehicles leaving Treasure Island were searched.

Charge Filed Against Driver After Accident

A car driven by Edward L. Kochen, 22, of Lima overturned, causing considerable damage to the machine but no injuries, at about 8:15 last night, according to a state highway patrol report.

The accident occurred 8.3 miles west of Marion on route 30-South. Kochen has been ordered to appear in municipal court Saturday to answer a charge of reckless operation.

CONSERVATION PLANS SET FOR MARION CO. FARMS

Program for 1,500 Acres Approved by Board.

Soil and water conservation farm plans developed by 10 Marion county farmers and involving approximately 1,500 acres of land were approved by the Marion County Soil Conservation District board of supervisors in a meeting Friday night in the soil conservation service office in the postoffice building.

The farmers bringing their land under conservation practices are R. J. Hecker, Robert Isler, Ralph R. Isler, Carl J. Russell, Raymond E. Click, Joe F. Isler, Harold A. Click, Arthur Isler and John F. Isler, all of near Prospect, and E. L. Trout of near Claridon.

Two drainage ditch projects, for which preliminary surveys were prepared by George L. Sherman of Mt. Gilead, soil conservation service engineer, were approved. Requests for the surveys were made by Henry and Weldon Dutt of Pleasant township and a group of farmers east of Marion, Harry B. Price, Chester K. Gruber, Paul C. Lawrence, F. J. Mautz and Allen George.

The board voted to cooperate with the Union, Divide, and Headwaters soil conservation districts in operation of a tiling machine which will be brought into the area on loan from the U. S. soil conservation service.

Blasted Mine Found Safe

Shaft Where 9 Died Yesterday Passed Inspection Last Nov. 14.

By The Associated Press

EXETER, Pa., April 11—The shaft where nine coal diggers met death in the nation's second mine blast in two weeks was found safe by federal inspectors last November, it was reported as investigators sought today to determine the official cause.

E. H. McCleary, supervising engineer of the Knox Coal Company, said Inspector G. M. Mortensen found the Schooley shaft free of gas in his Nov. 14 inspection.

Earlier, Joseph J. Walsh, deputy state secretary of mines, blamed ignition of methane gas but said the shaft was "in first class" condition after recent inspections.

There was no immediate comment forthcoming from John L. Lewis, chieftain of the United Mine Workers who ordered the AFL's soft coal diggers into a six-day mourning period for the 111 dead in the Centralia, Ill., explosion March 25.

Centralia's mine was operated by the U. S. government, which is not connected with Pennsylvania's anthracite fields.

The nine killed in the Exeter blast yesterday morning were hard coal diggers and were not affected either by the Lewis-ordered mourning period or by the recent shutdown order of Interior Secretary Krug of soft coal mines called unsafe.

The explosion drew from Earl Hewitt, chairman of the mines committee of the Pennsylvania house, a statement that "I am sure the members of the committee will do everything possible to remedy this (the safety) situation."

It was shortly after the day work crew of 175 had reported that the timber-splintering blast occurred. Dust and smoke soared from the pit head as rescue forces hurried to the shaft.

Company spokesmen said that only about 20 were believed to have been in the blast-torn shaft. Nine others suffered injuries and were hospitalized.

It required only several hours to remove the bodies from the mounds of debris. Relatives stood anxiously by as the bodies were brought to the surface from the 350-foot deep shaft. Clergymen hurried to administer last rites.

Easy Now, Advises Busy Doc

By The Associated Press

GAP, Pa.—A country doctor who has treated more than 250,000 patients, delivered 2,000 babies and traveled more than half a million miles since 1906 to do so says people today are going to premature graves for three reasons:

Fast living. Heavy drinking. Too much smoking.

"Most persons," says 75-year-old Dr. George Blair Hershey, "have no business to die young. But under present day conditions they are always under a nervous tension.

He "wore out" 13 horses making his rounds before the automobile was invented.

He's the man who once delivered five babies in four townships and two counties in one day. He is also the man who first discovered the use of ultra-violet rays to detect measles three days earlier than visible symptoms appear.

And he's still hale and hearty.

NEWARK POLICEMEN FREE ON $1,000 BOND

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., April 11—Officers Carl Koblens, 54, and Bryan Woolard, 48, of the Newark police force, today were free on $1,000 bonds, pending a Licking county grand jury inquiry to amended affidavits charging them with manslaughter in the death Monday of 38-year-old Frank Merryman, father of three children.

Municipal Judge Harvey J. Alexander reduced the charge from first degree murder during the policemen's preliminary hearing yesterday. The judge also declared that he felt Merryman's widow, Mrs. Imogene Merryman, who signed the affidavits, has been "ill-advised" to make such charges.

Mrs. Merryman accused the two officers of beating her husband after he was ejected from a dance hall and taken to city jail.

Judge Alexander also said that County Prosecutor Brandt S. Hervey was "not vigorously prosecuting" the case, a comment that caused the prosecutor to take immediate exception before the proceedings concluded.

"Here we have a man who became absolutely incorrigible at a dance," Judge Alexander said, "and we have these officers who were called to perform their duty.

"We have unprejudiced witnesses in this case, but I believe the widow has been ill-advised to make the charge she filed... I find no evidence of murder in the first degree."

During the preliminary hearing, both Koblens and Woolard denied striking Merryman and said that Mrs. Merryman beat her husband on the face enroute to jail. Other witnesses, however, declared they had seen the officers hit Merryman after he was seized.

CHURCHES TO HOLD MEETING AT GALION

Heidelberg College Centennial Plans To Be Made.

Special to The Star

TIFFIN, April 11—Evangelical and Reformed congregations in this area will participate in a meeting at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, April 17, in the First Church, Galion, to complete plans for their part in the $1,000,000 centennial development program of Heidelberg college, at Tiffin.

Allan G. Aigler, of Bellevue, vice president of the Heidelberg board of trustees, will be the principal speaker. Rev. Walter B. Leis, pastor of St. Paul's church, Bellevue, and district chairmna for the Heidelberg program, will preside.

Pastors and lay representatives are expected from 31 congregations in Bellevue, Bucyrus, Whetstone Township, Bloomville, Chatfield, Crestline, Delaware, Galion, Ganges, Kenton, Goshen Township, Mansfield, Marion, Prospect, Shelby, Sulphur Springs, Sycamore, Upper Sandusky and Waldo.

The development program has been undertaken to provide three new buildings—a men's dormitory, chapel and gymnasium—and additional endowment. The financial campaign is scheduled for completion by May 13. It is planned to complete the new buildings by the time of the 100th anniversary celebration at the college in 1950.

VERDICT IN MARION CO. DAMAGE ACTION REVERSED

New Trial Ordered in Suit of Alma Benjamin.

An opinion of the court of appeals has reversed a verdict of a common pleas court jury granting Alma Benjamin $12,120 in her suit against Howard Lawson and has remanded the cause to common pleas court for a new trial. In the litigation the plaintiff asked for $20,000 for injuries and damages she claimed she received when she fell through a hole in the floor of a residential apartment owned by the defendant.

A common pleas jury granted the plaintiff $12,120 following a trial here Jan. 3, 1946. Roy Roof of Kenton and Frank Wiedemann of Marion are attorneys for the plaintiff and Martin and Reed and J. C. A. Arter of Marion and Cable and Cable of Lima are attorneys for the defendant.

Battle Over Federal Aid To Schools Starting in Congress

James Marlow

Senate Starts Hearings

...e senate education subcom- ...ee started hearings on these ...Wednesday. The hearings ...me April 21 and may last ... weeks.

As usual with important bills, ...ee of witnesses will be heard ... seems pretty sure the com- ...ee will approve some kind of bill and send it up to the full senate for a vote.

No one can predict the outcome there although this year there's a teacher shortage plus wide demands for higher teacher pay.

(If the senate should approve, the house would have to tackle the problem and no one can predict the outcome there, either.)

How much would such federal aid cost? No one knows. Maybe between $2,500,000 and $1,500,000,000.

Usual Arguments in Case

Here are the usual arguments for and against federal aid to education:

Against—It would mean federal interference in education and eventually, might mean federal control.

For—Congress can pass a law keeping the federal government out of the states' educational job. There need be no federal interference.

Against—With education money to hand out, a political party in power could use it to spread propaganda for itself in the schools.

For—Again, by a precise law keeping the government's hands out of the states, politicians' hands could be kept out of education.

Against—The traditional separation of state and church would break down if the federal money went not only to public schools but also to private schools giving religious instruction.

For—Private schools help take the burden off public schools and should get some help. But even so—

The law could say federal money would not go to private schools in any state unless that state wanted the money to go to them.

Against—Southerners, but not all, have opposed any federal law that insisted such money should be spent equally for whites and Negroes.

For—Negroes are citizens, just as white men are, and pay taxes and are entitled to an equal share in the benefits from federal money.

Against—All citizens would have to pay for such help through the taxes imposed on them. But some states put more money into education than others. Why should citizens in those states have to pay taxes to help the children of taxpayers in the states with poorer education?

For—Educated citizens everywhere are a benefit to the nation so citizens everywhere should share the tax burden equally.

Against—States are better able to pour money into education than the debt-burdened federal government.

For—Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard university, answered this one when he testified Wednesday. He said:

Sufficient funds to keep good schools going are not available and "cannot be raised from local and state resources of many areas."

Federal aid bills have been introduced by Senator Taft, Ohio Republican, for himself and a group of other senators; by Senator Aiken, Vermont Republican; and by Senator Green, Rhode Island Democrat.

The Taft bill, among other things would guarantee for every American child an education costing at least $40 a year.

Senator Aiken's bill would give federal money to public and private schools. Senator Green's bill would help raise teachers' salaries.

Prospect Arts Club Holds Marion Meeting

Special to The Star

PROSPECT—Mrs. Paul Kyle was hostess to the All Arts club at her home on Carhart street in Marion Monday evening. "Men as Trees" furnished the topic for devotions conducted by Mrs. Frank Hazen.

The club voted a gift to the summer park supervision fund, to hold the next meeting at the Federation home and to contribute to a birthday box. Mrs. Harold Osborn, chairman of the art committee, requested members to lend articles from the Pacific Islands for the club booth for Fine Arts day, May 6.

Mrs. William Lehner had charge of the program which included an Easter story by Mrs. Edward Lauer and a vocal solo by Mrs. Wilfred Knickel, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. E. Wottring.

Gangsters in the Grass

Weeds and brush are gangsters in the grass. They literally steal your cattle and sheep by reducing the carrying capacity of grazing land or pastures. They rob your soil of moisture and minerals. They choke the life out of your grass.

Mesquite and sagebrush in Western range country are often thieving plants. They're tough and aggressive. The carrying capacity of a hundred million acres of good grazing land has been greatly reduced by these two alone. Weeds and brush can be burned or poisoned, grubbed out with bulldozers or yanked out with tractors and cables. Grass thrives again when the brush is gone. Then, cattle or sheep production can be increased, sometimes as much as 300%.

From farming states come reports of doubled beef production per acre of pasture simply by mowing weeds. In dairying sections startling improvements in production, flavor, and milk and cream profits have resulted from cutting pasture weeds two or three times a season. Promising experimental work is proceeding with 2, 4-D and other new chemical weed killers. Spraying pastures is proving effective in destroying these livestock rustlers.

Once weeds are under control, pastures benefit by liming, fertilizing, reseeding with recommended pasture mixtures, by harrowing or discing to break up manure. Few crops give as great return for a little attention as does grass. A good starting point in an improved grass program is to take steps to control weeds and brush.

We—both you and Swift—are interested in making the best use of what we have. It has been said that "a penny saved is a penny earned." There are many dollars to be saved by making the most efficient use of grass lands. We suggest that you contact your state agricultural college, county agent, or vocational agricultural teacher for further information.

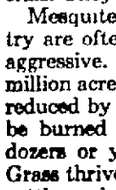
Martha Logan's Recipe for
FRANKFURTS AND HOT POTATO SALAD

(Yields 6 servings)

6 frankfurts
4 large potatoes
3 tablespoons bacon drippings
¼ cup diced onion
¼ cup vinegar
¼ cup diced green pepper
3 tablespoons water
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon black pepper

Cook potatoes. Peel and cut in ½-inch cubes. Place frankfurts in saucepan of boiling water. Remove from heat and let stand from 5 to 8 minutes. Heat drippings. Add onion and green pepper, and brown. Add vinegar, water, sugar, salt, and pepper. Cook over low heat until flavors are thoroughly blended. Pour hot sauce over cubed potatoes and mix lightly. Top with frankfurts and serve hot.

Judging Producing Ability of Heifer Calves



W. W. Swett

Bureau of Dairy Industry
U. S. Department of Agriculture

The results of preliminary analyses of data obtained by scientists in the Bureau of Dairy Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, offer much promise that dairymen will soon have a new, practical, money-saving system for judging the future producing ability of heifer calves.

We have found that by measuring the udder of a dairy heifer when she is 4 months old we can get a good idea whether or not she will be a good milk producer. We think that with a little practice any farmer can learn to judge heifer calves the same way.

Working with our experimental dairy herd at Beltsville, Maryland, we first determined, by test, the normal development of calves. Then we studied all the calves in the High, Medium, or Low groups and found that those calves which showed [illegible]

Price balances supply and demand

There is always a demand for meat. Yes, at some price. But that price is not determined by the meat's cost, or not by the most patient. It is set by what the consumers are willing and able to pay for the meat and by competition. That is something which must be borne in mind whenever one is to understand the meat business.

A good many [illegible] that the meat packer will make a profit of [illegible] cent a pound. Actually, the profit of our company is [illegible] cent a pound. Some years it is more, some years it is less. Sometimes it is a loss. Over the years it is not a large profit.

PRODUCERS BENEFIT FROM QUALITY CONTROL

H. H. Mitchell

Quality Control protects the buyer of Swift products. It also serves the farmer. For it insists that his products be processed into the best possible consumer products.

"When Mr. or Mrs. America buys a Swift product, they expect top quality," says H. S. Mitchell, director of our Research Laboratories. "They also depend on it to be just as good as the last time they bought it. That's why they keep coming back for Swift products. They have every right to expect uniform high quality. And it's the job of the quality control system to make sure that they get it."

Quality Control begins with the livestock and other "raw materials" selected by Swift buyers. Next, it lays down exact written specifications for the control of each step in the processing of many products. Finally, it sets up strict quality standards for the finished products.

Our Research Laboratories are in twenty-one cities. More than 1,000,000 exacting tests are made each year in our Quality Control program. Each test takes time and work. But constant testing is the only way we can be certain that the quality of Swift products is uniformly high. This constant Quality Control not only builds confidence in Swift products, but it also helps create a steady, dependable market for the livestock and other raw materials we purchase from producers. A permanently successful business must be grounded on the solid foundation of uniform quality.

While the Gittin's Good

AMERICAN promises to help fight totalitarians abroad won't mean much if free enterprise doesn't remain healthy at home.

The toughest problem to be solved today isn't in the Middle East, but here at home, and its name is price inflation.

In past comments on wage raises with no corresponding increase in efficiency, we have said that this was inflation. That was correct. Arbitrary boosting of wage rates in the attempt to perpetuate war-boom income has backfired. As consumers, Americans are reaping the whirlwind of labor costs that went up without corresponding increases in efficiency, a form of inflation.

But responsibility for robbing the dollar of its value isn't confined to citizens trying to stretch the war boom in wage rates. It is shared by those trying to stretch war profits. Prices aren't high merely because organized labor has tried to get something for nothing. They are high, also, because employers of labor and handlers of labor's output are getting more money without corresponding increases in value. Not all the increases they have made in selling prices can be blamed on increases in labor costs. They, too, have been trying "to git a-plenty while the gittin's good."

"Gittin' a-plenty while the gittin's good" can't be called economic statesmanship by any stretch of imagination. Labor leaders flunked dismally when the time came for them to prove they could see further than the ends of their noses. The leaders of American business are taking the same test now.

No one is presuming to say how much prices could be reduced; the amounts are variable. Some prices can't be reduced at all. A few must go up, no doubt. But it's a fact that some prices have gone up unreasonably. There has been no economic statesmanship. There has been nothing but the rule of dog eat dog, kill the goose that lays the golden eggs, eat-drink-and-be-merry-for-tomorrow-we-die—and "git a-plenty while the gittin's good."

The sudden concern about high prices in this country is the instinct of a relatively intelligent population to avert economic disaster. Americans don't like to believe they must have inflation like the Chinese, for instance, because they believe they're smarter than the Chinese.

It is a problem in values, something to be solved by individual Americans pooling their intelligence. The government can't do it, which was the reason for abandoning OPA. If it can be done at all, it must be done by the people themselves, backing up the proud "American boast that in this country the intelligence of everybody is infinitely greater than the intelligence of a handful of politicians.

And if it can be done at all it will be done by millions of Americans deciding that there is some rule of life higher than "gittin' a-plenty while the gittin's good."

Everybody's Waiting

EUGENE DENNIS, general secretary of the Communist party in the United States, has gone considerably out of his way to show contempt for the house committee on un-American activities. The question is whether or not the department of justice, on the committee's request, will give Dennis the works. Everybody's waiting to see what happens.

Unfortunately, the question cannot be answered yes. Unless the department of justice has had a change of heart about party Communists who show contempt for congressional committees, Dennis has nothing to fear. There have been 30 contempt cases turned over to the department since 1940. Six have been handled, and five of these were Communist cases. These resulted in one dismissal, one acquittal and three piddling fines with suspended jail sentences. "If you wonder why the Communists are given a free hand in America," complained Representative Mundt of South Dakota last February," one emphatic reason is because after you cite them for contempt nothing happens out of the attorney general's office."

Congressional Dessert

WORD from Washington is that the season for junkets is on. This is entirely apart from the fact that the racing season has opened in nearby Maryland.

Congressmen go on junkets to far places of the world to "study conditions" and "evaluate procedures." If they take their wives along and have a little pleasure, well, why not? All work and no play and it wouldn't be a junket.

Junkets are now in progress to Egypt, Panama and California. Some of the cost is borne by the junketers personally but detailed reports are never made public. The last congress set a record for its junkets. More than 100 representatives were in Europe or the Pacific just after the end of the war. On some Pacific islands there seemed to be as many congressmen as soldiers and sailors.

The word "junket" originally meant a cream-cheese dessert, but the dictionary says it now also means "a pleasure expedition or outing at which eating and drinking are prominent."

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

President Truman Really Disturbed About Prices.

OUR TOWN, U. S. A., April 11—Some of the papers here say Mr Truman is really deeply disturbed about prices now — not merely from the personal standpoint of proving he was right about OPA when congress overruled him, and not from the political standpoint of chiding Republicans. Some one around him said something about actually doing something, say, perhaps putting an excess profits tax on profits again. That would not do any good around here, maybe a little, but it does not even reach toward a basic understanding of our local problems, as the people are talking how they face it in our clubs and social gatherings and such.

A husband and wife here, for instance, who were well known, have been compelled to move to a cheaper apartment because she simply could not meet her increasing budget costs, although both had received good raises. No one is charging any one with gougin around here—at least not publicly — but the money just seems to flow in larger and larger quantities every time you turn around and the promise that everything would work out when production was acquired simply has not proved true. For one thing we don't have production yet.

One of our largest retailers thought he found a flaw in the production-price theory when he started to build an annex for postwar expansion. He had to take a cost plus contract in order to get the work done.

Cost Mounts

No one would guarantee anything on material prices and labor. The work has dragged on twice the allotted time and the cost has been run up from two to four times the original estimate (he confesses the bite increased within those estimates but will not say how much.)

The reason for this price increase may be found in another specific instance our people are talking about and this incident explains why an excess profits tax or even the shortage of materials have nothing to do with the trouble. The steel workers agreed to work Saturday in order to push the job through, and with their time and a half or doubletime that day, they got $32. You might think this enough to pay rather high prices. But on Monday they all failed to show up. In short, they earned doubletime working a holiday and then took off the day of normal pay. The bricklayers on the same job disappeared one day. No one seemed to know for sure where they had gone but it was reported they ran off to the city for a day to get a premium wage of $22 on a special job.

Now an excess profits tax might be justifiable, our people say, on some of those big concerns — if they have any excess in general — but you can not talk along that line to the restaurant man who got one third less trade this year on Easter Sunday than last, and says he served 200 less dinners over the Easter period. Nor can you talk that way to the Main Street merchants who is not getting his stocks moved because people are not buying as they formerly did.

This is a nation of small towns for the most part and these true conditions of a small town are the ones Mr. Truman and his economists will have to face, not statistics. No one here believes you can cure prices by pressing a button, but we certainly might have production, a market saturating production this far after the war. That is what our people say.

Now I do not wish to report from these hustings that we hear nothing of excess profits. One fellow bought a piece of real estate for $2,500, for which our best judge of real estate had offered $500. Others have paid $17,500 for small houses with bedrooms so tiny there was just room enough for a bed and for you to get into it.

In fact there was one particular excess profit case which caused police to search for the profiteer. A couple wanted to buy a house, saw an ad in the paper, actually met the owner, went through the house, then met him on a street corner and paid him $500 down. When they tried to move into the house, they found it long had been occupied. A trickster had succeeded in getting a key impression, thus admitted with a key the prospective purchasers, while the occupants were out of town.

You can see there are all kinds of things going on in our town, no doubt somewhat like yours, prices and profit conditions are of primary interest to nearly all the people, but in a confusing sort of way, if you know what I mean.

Just a Minute

A Mess By Any Other Name?

Henceforth, according to an announcement of the quartermaster general, Army meals will not be a "mess."

Not officially, that is.

Nor unofficially, either. If the Army is successful in its new campaign to give its victuals "eye appeal," a campaign, incidentally, which comes as a surprise to soldiers who had thought eye appeal limited to another type of dish.

The program will also seek to encourage flattery of mess attendants. Thus, GIs are urged to say "Thank you, sergeant, that was fine" after every meal. The Army, of course, will warn the mess sergeants beforehand so that they will not faint in the mashed potatoes.

The thanks those boys have been getting has been more profane than profuse. But all that is to be changed now that the accent is to be more on preparation and less on bicarbonate.

It's all right, I guess, but the adventure of eating will now be gone. For it was the Army's hit-or-miss system of service which gave the world such gourmetical discoveries as lima beans with raisin sauce and gingerbread with ham gravy.

The Galloping Gooneys

SERVICE MEN who spent any time during the spring at Midway island, about 1,000 miles northwest of Hawaii and just this side of the International Date Line, will never forget the gooney birds which at this season swarm over the island to nest.

The birds pre-empt the streets, airstrip and any other likely place for their nests in the ground. The hen gooney lays one egg, white and somewhere between the turkey and the ostrich egg in size. From it hatches a scraggly little gooney which from the first shows a tendency to peck viciously at any intruder.

But the most memorable characteristic of the gooney bird is its unorthodox method of taking off and landing. If the Civil Aeronautics Board had any control over gooneys, it would ground them permanently.

Airborne, the gooney is the most graceful bird imaginable, with a wingspread of 6 to 8 feet. When it lands, however, it uses its feet as drag brakes, as it would on water, and that doesn't work on land, with the result that the gooney goes tumbling over and over, emitting enraged cries of what surely must be bird profanity.

On the take-off, too, the gooney has trouble. It spreads its wings and gallops 30 to 100 yards in a grotesque, gallumphing hack. If it is lucky and doesn't strike any stones or small declivities, it finally soars aloft; otherwise there is another ignominious tumble and raucous squawks of disgust.

The antics and mishaps of the gooneys are one of the few diversions of Midway Islanders. At one time the birds were in danger of extinction because they are easily caught, but the navy now protects them on Midway, which annually plays host to about 25,000. No cats are allowed on the island and any dog suspected of molesting them is done away with. What's more, grounded gooneys have the right-of-way in island traffic. Any point on the island can be reached in five minutes by jeep, so there's no reason why a vehicle can't pause 10 seconds to save a bird.

The gooney's official name is the Laysan albatross. It is as large as a turkey, has a long, hooked beak, webbed feet, and alert, intelligent eyes, but not the fierce eyes of a bird of prey. Its size, however, is illusory, for stripped of its feathers a gooney weighs only 6 or 7 pounds. The rest is padding to cushion it against the mishaps peculiar to it.

Europeans Sing American Hits

BERLIN—Meet a youngster in the Balkans singing "Don't Fence Me In" or a farmer in Italy humming "To Each His Own" and it's a fair bet they heard these American tunes on one of radio Munich's most popular programs entitled "Die Zehn der Woche (The Ten of the Week)."

Its weekly list is selected from listener requests. So popular is the program that it draws an average of four to five thousand letters, postcards and telegrams per month. This jumps to seven thousand per month when American musical films are playing in Munich. Currently "Sun Valley Serenade," with Sonja Henie and the late Glenn Miller, is playing in Munich and requests for songs from this film have topped requests in recent weeks.

PAGING HOUDINI

After the Sound and Fury

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON, April 11—It is now a fair bet that congress will leave Washington without accomplishing any general revision of the labor laws. For the present, at any rate, there seem to be only two chances for labor legislation at this session. In order to fill the hole left by the expiring Smith-Connally act, congress may vote a last minute bill to restore the administration's powers to deal with nationwide strike emergencies. And if a wave of big strikes is started by the troubles in the telephone and coal industries, congress may be sufficiently enraged to pass a punitive labor law over the President's veto.

The chances for the second alternative still appear slim, however, while a bill to stop the gap left by the Smith-Connally Act will be just that—a stop-gap and nothing more. In short all the sound and fury of the last year may turn out to signify precisely nothing.

No less than three schisms stand in the way of action: a schism between the house and the senate, which is not very important; a schism between the congress and the White House, which is exceedingly important, and a schism within the labor committee of the senate, which is also exceedingly important. Very briefly, the house would like more severe labor legislation than the senate. This difference can be ironed out. The President does not want severe labor legislation, and is determined to veto such legislation if it comes before him. This difference cannot be ironed out, judging by current signs. And the senate labor committee, where the ironing out of the White House — congress disagreement might conceivably be accomplished is now split seven ways to Sunday.

Taft's Gamble

It is difficult to remember a more curious or significant legislative situation than that within the senate labor committee. When he set aside Senator George Aiken of Vermont to take the committee chairmanship, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio gambled rather heavily, both with his position as senate leader and his future White House prospects.

His aim was to secure agreement by a committee majority on a bill far more moderate than the punitive proposals of Senator Joseph Ball of Minnesota, yet sufficiently strong to satisfy the Republican party's clamoring businessmen.

Taft has labored patiently, with the utmost industry and determination, to secure that result. The final test will begin when the committee starts voting on the clauses of a long tentative draft bill. But as of this writing, the outlook seems bad for majority assent to the kind of measure Taft can accept.

There are no less than four factions on the committee of 13 members. The first is that of Senator Taft himself. He favors the present draft, which includes most conspicuously prohibitions of jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts; enforcement of a 60-day cooling-off period in national strikes of critical character and diluted regulation of the closed shop and industry-wide bargaining. The second faction is that of Senator Ball. He is prepared to go along with Senator Taft in order to get a committee majority, but would prefer to throw the book at the labor unions. Whatever bill is reported, he will probably offer his own extreme program as an amendment on the senate floor. In the Ball-Taft corner are three other Republican, Senators Smith, Donnell and Jenner, and one Democrat, Ellender of Louisiana.

Aim of No. 3

Faction number three is composed of the three remaining Republicans, Aiken, Wayne Morse of Oregon, Irving Ives of New York, the able newcomer, and one Democrat, Lister Hill of Alabama. They want an extremely moderate bill, aimed only at removing obvious inequities in the existing labor laws. Morse and Ives have each offered drafts of their own, but are far closer to one another than to Taft. Finally faction four comprises the three remaining Democrats, Pepper, Murray, and Thomas of Oklahoma, who do not really want a labor bill of any kind.

The opportunities for maneuvering presented by this line-up positively stagger the imagination. But present indications suggest that the differences are too great to permit compromise between Taft and either Morse or Ives. Therefore, although committee chairman, Taft will end as leader of a minority of six. Hill, who is President Truman's spokesman within the committee, is meanwhile working with Morse on a moderate bill. Yet if this bill is to command a majority, Morse, Aiken and Ives must all agree, and Hill must carry with him the reluctant Thomas. Pepper and Murray. The three left wing Democrats will be tempted to go along with Hill only to make life unhappy for Taft. But Pepper will also be tempted to strike an indirect blow at President Truman. And as for Thomas of Oklahoma, bringing his statesmanlike mind to a decision of this sort is a feat comparable to the liquefaction of helium.

* * *

He sitteth down to a dinner which the wife sayeth cost her three times what she paid a few years ago when the meat was not so tough. He openeth a letter telling him that the pair of pants he ordered is ready and can be had for what he once paid for two complete suits.

* * *

He listeneth to the radio telleth him that America is going to spend $24 000 000 to make life easier in Hindustan. He throweth a book and breaks a $6 lamp which the wife sayeth will cost $25 to replace.

* * *

He retireth early between sheets that were grossly overpriced and pulleth over him a woolen blanket bought from a man out for the air. He is restless. He counteth sheep. He discovereth that sheep are scarce, too. Where fifty would jump for him free of charge he discovereth they have upped prices and now jumpeth four for a dollar. He decideth to take a sleeping pill that has gone up in price three times in one month.

* * *

He getteth to sleep. He hath a wonderful dream in which he maketh both ends meet easily. He is awakened by the milkman who leaveth a quart of milk which nicketh him as much as he used to pay for wine.

He cryeth out "What's the use?" He gets no answer. It's all done by mirrors.

Into what? Out of what?

"This," said the man, brushing a feather off the sleeve of his coat, which was festooned down the front with droplets of egg yolk.

"I am going along minding my own business, see. The closest I have ever been to chickens is to run over them in my red roadster with the collapsible top. I was fond of fried chicken, southern style, but it was one of those things I could let alone without feeling abused.

"Then comes the meat shortage. We try to lick it by eating eggs. But eggs are expensive. We also eat chicken, also expensive. Then we get the idea of raising our own chickens. That way we have eggs, also a chicken from time to time. All it will cost us would be the price of feed. Haw. All it costs a man to live is the price of feed. Haw.

"So we go into chicken business. A hundred dollars to make a place for the nasty things. More trouble than it takes to raise a baby. Squawking and flopping round. The eggs are like pulling teeth. Raising chickens is not what it's cracked up to be. But in spite of everything, most of the blasted brutes live. We get the hang of playing nurse maid to poultry. That is too bad.

"Because we get attached to them. Can't kill them. The next year we get more little chickens—with no roosters, understand, thinking numbers will water down our attachment for the old hens. Nope. Instead, it puts us into the egg business. But things don't get really bad until this spring. We have nightmares about eggs. We eat eggs for breakfast. I have hard-boiled eggs in my lunch bucket. At night we have eggs for supper topped off with nice custard. Ugh.

"I'm so fed up I now would kill the chickens to get rid of the eggs but we can't put the carcasses in the refrigerator, which is full of eggs. Easter was a blessing. We color eggs for the sake of doing something with them. We are feeding eggs to the dog, giving them away to strangers, selling them at cut rates, but every night when I get home my missus shows me a couple dozen more fresh eggs. The hens are having a contest for mother of the year. I have tried to cool them off by cutting down on their feed and letting drafts blow on them. Egg production rises two more percentage points. I am thinking of putting pepper in their nests. I am desperate."

Beg pardon, but what is that on his chin?

"What could it be but egg?" snarled the man who was thinking of turning over his problem to WAA. "Also between my toes. I have been giving myself egg shampoos. Puck, pock, pitawket!"

TALKIE WALKIE VERSION OF PHONE STRIKE — Packing a walkie talkie radio set on his back, William Zori, a newspaper reporter, stands on a Baltimore street giving an account of telephone company picketing to a rewrite man in his office. With its normal communications curtailed by the phone strike a Baltimore paper sent a squad of radio-equipped reporters out to gather the news by ultra short wave for the first time in the city's history.

PHONE

today by the Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers as the nationwide phone workers strike entered its fifth day.

The series of demonstrations—first in Ohio since the strike beban—began yesterday when more than 500 pickets paraded in front of the phone company building as groups of supervisory and non-striking employes changed shifts.

The pickets made no efforts to molest the employes but sang songs and directed loud boos and remarks to employes entering or leaving the building.

Earl Culp, OFTW educational director, said the pickets decided on the demonstration because they resented what he described as "tactics of management boys and girls going in and out of the building at will to give the public the impression that everything was normal."

There were no other strike developments over the state.

Child League Conference Held at Upper Sandusky

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 11 —The Central District Conference of the Ohio Child Conservation League was held Thursday in the St Paul Lutheran church here. The general theme "Heaven is at the Feet of Mothers" was emphasized during the day. Rev. Tennyson Guyer, D.D. of Ohio City, O, was guest speaker for the afternoon session.

Mrs. L. A. Vanatta, reservations chairman, reported an attendance of 236. The Central district includes eight counties, Wyandot, Marion, Morrow, Hardin, Crawford, Richland, Delaware, and Knox.

The morning session opened with Rev. Howard F. Yeager, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran church in Upper Sandusky giving the invocation. Mrs. C. N. Assenheimer of Upper Sandusky sang a solo. Mrs. Harold Roth, president of the M.O.M. club welcomed the guests, and the response was by Mrs Robert Rushing of the Forest C.C.L.

Mrs. Harold H. Jacobs of Marion, president of the Ohio C.C.L. gave the greetings.

The reports of the groups included the methods of making money, most interesting meeting of the club year, the type of study course used by the individual groups and the many and varied projects carried out by the clubs.

Report Given

Mrs. Donald Putham of Ada, district president, presided at the morning session. She reported there are 47 circles, 908 mothers, and more than one thousand children represented in the Central group of the C.C.L. Mrs. Putnam also stated that there are three federations in the Central district.

New circles introduced into the district are: Prospect Mothers Club; Iota Delta, Marion; Childs Guidance, Galion; Mt Vernon Junior C.C.L.; Bucyrus Progressive Mothers Club and the Sycamore Childs Study Club.

Mrs. Putname presented the following suggestions, received from the state convention: It is urgently stressed that each new group organizing should have a sponsor, and that each mother to be investigated if she wishes to become a member of the C.C.L.

The organization is being recognized more and more each year, Mrs. Putnam stated. It has a representative on the state commission of Ohio, Mrs. Holger Ridder of Cleveland, represents the members at the Ohio Conference on the pre-school child, Mrs. Harold Jacobs of Marion, state president of the C.C.L. is serving on committees on the pre-school clinic, and also is a representative on the Women's State Committee of Ohio.

Study Fund Provided

Mrs. Putnam said $200 had been voted to be set aside for the revision of a new study course at the executive board meeting recently. Each group is asked to contribute to the state C.C.L. educational fund.

The afternoon session was highlighted by the address of Rev. Guyer, D.D., who used as his theme "The Sky Is the Limit." The first thought he brought to the audience was that there is no substitute for a real father or mother.. No queen in all history had more right to be so called than a mother, he said. Children are entitled to the right to be well fed, well bred and well wed. He further stated that the greatest single need in raising a family, is that we trust our children.

Dr. Guyer advocated that not only should parents care for their children but should care with them, and said "to make a successful country for our children, we should give them external guidance, internal security and eternal strength."

The Upper Sandusky High school quartet, composed of Marilyn Whitman, Rachel Reamsnyder, Charles McClain, and Arden Moser furnished music for the afternoon meeting.

Guests Listed

Special guests present were. Mrs. George Crall, state librarian, of Shelby; Mrs. Harold Jacobs of Marion, state president. Mrs. James Lauer of Prospect, state corresponding secretary. Miss Betty Brooks, Wyandot county home demonstration agent, and Mrs Raymond Constein of Upper Sandusky.

Luncheon was served in the basement of the church by the ladies of the church The hostesses circles were: Upper Sandusky circle, Junior Mothers' club and the M.O.M. club.

Mrs. Dorcas Winter, president of the Upper Sandusky circle was the general chairman, and co-chairman was Mrs. Howard Thiel. Mrs. Harold Roth was in charge of reservations and Mrs. L. C Vanatta, Mrs Wallace Bringman and Mrs. Mervin Stansbery, decorations. The advisor was Mrs. Donald Putnam, district president.

Presiding at the table for a social hour were Mrs Turner and Mrs. K. B. Morgan, first vice regent. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Harry J. Mautz Mrs. Charles Mooney, Mrs. John Courtright and Mrs R. E Copeland. The annual meeting in May will be at the home of Misses Ruth and Maud Gorham of South Main street.

Strike Closes Two Barberton Factories

By The Associated Press

BARBERTON, O., April 11—A strike of 2,000 employes closed the Seiberling Rubber Co plant today, bringing to approximately 3,400 the number of rubber workers involved in walkouts here.

An unauthorized strike yesterday of 1,400 CIO-United Rubber Workers following the suspension of an employe stopped work at the Sun Rubber Co.

Picketing at Seiberling began at 6 a. m. following the failure of company and union officials to agree on a new contract. The company is offering the 11½-cent pay boost and other conditions accepted by the union in "Big Four" rubber plants, but the union is asking additional concessions.

HUGHES 85 TODAY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 11 — Charles Evans Hughes is 85 years old today. Still tall, straight and bearded, and still an ardent early-morning walker, the retired chief justice left Washington early this week to spend his birthday in New York with his children and grandchildren.

said "has been overlooked in the trend toward thoughts of machines and groups or masses of people."

"All of us — administrators, teachers, scientists—can no longer ignore problems of human beings in relation to each other and to our present organizations and to change," Baker asserted.

Introduce "Manly" Spirit

Dr Robert W Bishop dean of women of the University of Cincinnati, said that veterans have reintroduced a manly spirit into a campus atmosphere which had become largely feminine."

He asserted that war veterans "are a healthy lot and pay more attention to their physical welfare.

"They show a mild indifference to certain forms of student activities and so called traditions" he asserted. "They are not getting enough value from college activity in the way of social and cultural growth and development They bring a greater opportunity and obligation to us as conselors to assist in the fundamental relationships of life and learning."

Panel discussions concerning religion in colleges, philosophy of "one world," human ethics and "Ohio as a field for creative writing" were on today's program.

Description of Theories

The Roman Catholic view of the "one world" concept was to be presented by Rev J J. McLarney, of St. Joseph's Priory, O., while Prof. Peter Epp, Ohio State university, was scheduled to describe the Marxian theory and Prof. Philip Rice, Kenyon college, Gambier, O, the Liberal democratic theory.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert was to address the convention's banquet meeting tonight along with Dr. William E. Wickenden of Case Tech.

RFC HEAD DENIES CHARGE OF FRAUD

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 11 — Charles B. Henderson, retiring chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, denied under oath today that the RFC acquired in what a witness has termed a "fraudulent bankruptcy" action of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in 1944.

Henderson appeared before the senate banking committee, which heard Cleotus Clay, former general solicitor for the B. and O., testify yesterday that Jesse Jones, federal loan chief, approved what Clay called the "fraudulent bankruptcy" three years ago.

Senator Robertson (D - Va) asked Henderson:

"There has been a charge of acquiescence in a fraudulent bankruptcy action. Is that true?"

"It is not true," Henderson answered.

W. W. Sullivan, chief of the RFC's railroad division, made the same reply.

The committee is conducting an investigation of RFC affairs preliminary to a decision on extending the lending agency's life after June 30.

HOUSE COMMITTEE O.K.'S LABOR BILL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 11—The house labor committee approved today provisions of its new labor bill to outlaw industry-wide bargaining, jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts.

The bill still is subject to final approval by the committee Saturday. It is scheduled for house action next week.

The senate labor committee also began a section-by-section vote on its labor bill, but nothing conclusive was done at a morning session.

The proposed house committee ban on industry-wide bargaining is designed to prevent such practices as John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers dickering with the entire soft coal business for better pay or working conditions.

Committee members say the measure would make national and international unions correspond to trade associations of business men, acting largely in an advisory capacity.

The house group previously had approved sections banning the closed shop and setting up other restrictions on labor unions.

Crawford Co. Couple Wed in Parsonage

Special to The Star

GALION, April 11—At the parsonage of the English Lutheran church in Sulphur Springs Wednesday afternoon, Miss Margaret Henrietta Winch, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Winch of the Dice road, became the bride of Ira Eckert, son of William Eckert and the late Mrs. Eckert of near Crestline. The ceremony was read by Rev. A. Shell.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of Mr. Eckert's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Witter of near Crestline. The couple will reside at the Dice road residence.

The bride was graduated from North Robinson High school in 1942, and has been employed at the Buckeye Manufacturing Co. in Crestline. Mr. Eckert is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. in Crestline. He was graduated from Leesville High school in 1942.

"Old Timers" Night Observed by Elks

"Old Timers" night was observed at a meeting of Marion Lodge No. 32, B. P. O. Elks Thursday night. A lodge of sorrow was held in memory of John H. Guthery, whose death occurred recently.

Following the lodge session representatives of the local Army recruiting station showed two action films on the invasion of France.

Sons Honored By Bucyrus Rotarians

BUCYRUS, April 11—Sons of Rotarians were guests Tuesday for the luncheon meeting at the Y. M. C. A. as the club observed father-son day.

Rev. J. Paul Jones, pastor of Grace Evangelical U. B. church, the speaker, called for a better understanding between parents and sons and other program numbers were furnished by the eight singers comprising the a cappella choir of Sulphur Springs, directed by Mrs. Dortha Poper. The group presented five sacred numbers and a skit. M. E. Schieber was the program chairman.

Next Tuesday the Rotarians will entertain their daughters and a special program is being arranged.

A legendary island in the Atlantic was named "Brazil," the name later being given to the South American country.

I, too, will do my part!

• Like his father, his father's father, and all those before him, this young man is eager to help his country. He is the product of a tradition founded and carried on by men born with a high sense of duty. Army Day, April 7, serves as a reminder that the need for strong, continuing support of the national defense has never been greater. There is a place for every qualified young American in the pattern of preparedness.

• The war is won. The world seeks peace. Until sound and lasting means can be found for insuring international co-operation, the surest, most effective basis for the preservation of peace lies in keeping a force-in-being so strong that it becomes a deterrent to the potential aggressor.

• That is why today, probably more than at any other time in history, the Nation requires the help of its finest young men in meeting the needs set forth by the War Department as the minimum with which efficient armed forces can be maintained. Every man of military age can support this vital program by joining any one of these great military organizations: The Regular Army, the National Guard of United States or Organized Reserve Corps. If attending college he may enroll in the Reserve Officers Training Corps. All of these comprise the foundation upon which sound national security can be built.

• As a member of one of these peacetime groups you are lending a hand to a cause which is of the very first importance to the American people. The time for action is now. Do your part by taking part!

SAYS BRITAIN CAN STOP WAR

Wallace Tells England She Can Save World by Not Taking Sides.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 11—Henry A. Wallace said tonight Britain could save the world from war by refusing to take sides between the United States and Russia.

"If you show the way, all progressive peoples can speak out before it is too late for the principles of a strong United Nations and world progress," the former vice president told a meeting sponsored by the New Statesman and Nation.

The New Statesman and Nation is a leftist weekly which has been an organ for the voice of Labor party rebels against British foreign policy.

Renewing his criticism of the Truman doctrine in the Middle East, Wallace said in his prepared text:

"I do not believe that there will be war this month or next month, but I do believe that a continuation of the present policy will set during the next few months a rigid framework which will maintain a state of perpetual spiritual warfare which will, after a time, produce depression in the United States and, eventually, a world wide war.

"I believe this is true also of the Russians In the short term, a hard policy against Russia may be highly successful. In the long term, I don't see how it can help peace. At first, by policing Russia's every border we may force her to contract her influence. But within her borders she may prepare for eventual war instead of taking the risks that all nations must take for lasting peace."

If war comes, Wallace said, all nations would be given the "suicidal task of choosing sides."

"You are asked by many of my countrymen to make that choice today," he continued. "To do so means the end of social reform and the hopes of peace; thank God you do not have to make that choice. Your destiny is to save the world from that choice by refusing to make it yourselves."

Visiting Teacher Speaks At Silver St. Meeting

"Delinquency is a way of thinking which has its beginning early in life," A. T. Allen, visiting teacher in the city schools, said in a talk before the Silver Street P-T A. Tuesday night at the school. The need of a wholesome family life, desirable playmates and the importance of play were stressed as factors in preventing delinquency.

Devotions were conducted by members of the teaching staff, Miss Viola Hampshire, Mrs. Jean Gatchell, Mrs. Mabel Peterson, Mrs. Lenore Bradley, Mrs. Ilo Wymer and Miss Dorothy Buckley.

Mrs. Lawrence Morse and Mrs. Ralph Graff were chosen delegates to represent the unit at a meeting of the annual conference of the Central District to be held in Delaware in April. Mrs. Alberta Brothers was elected secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Everett Smith. The association voted to sponsor a cafeteria supper April 16 at the school. The fourth grade, taught by Miss Dorothy Buckley, received the banner for the most parents present.

Taft Sets Aid Limits

Says U. S. Help for Greece, Turkey Should End When Soviets Quit Balkans.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 11—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) served notice today he will regard the eventual withdrawal of Russian troops from the Balkans as a signal for the United States to halt military and financial assistance to Greece and Turkey

Taft, who heads the senate Republican policy committee, told a reporter his announced approval yesterday of the $400,000,000 aid bill now before the senate was given "reluctantly" and with the hope the program can be ended in a year or 15 months

"Once the peace treaties are ratified," he said, "Russia is committed to withdraw her troops from the Balkan countries within 90 days, except for those left to protect communication lines in Austria

Depends On Russians

"If the Russians get out, as they have promised to do, I think the threat that Greece and Turkey will fall under Communist domination will end. In that case, I can see no further reason for our continuing to give them assistance."

Some administration officials have expressed the hope that the aid program can be completed in 15 months. The current appropriation asked by President Truman covers only the period to July 1, 1948, but Mr. Truman has left open the question of how much longer assistance may be needed.

Taft's reluctance to support the President's program of intervening in Greek and Turkish affairs seemed to be reflected in the senate's dragging debate on the issue, now in its fourth day.

Although Senators Elbert Thomas (D-Utah), Eastland (D-Miss), Taylor (D-Idaho) and Flanders (R-Vt) were on the tentative speakers' list, leaders have encountered difficulties in keeping the debate running.

Approve Amendments

When Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) ended a lengthy criticism yesterday of aid to Turkey—which he called "a fascist military dictatorship"—Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the foreign relations committee took advantage of a lull in the talk to gain senate approval of a series of committee amendments to the bill.

All were adopted by voice vote, with fewer than a score of members present.

They included Vandenberg's amendment permitting the United Nations to call a halt to American assistance to the two countries when two-thirds of the general assembly or seven of the 11 security council members finds that UN action is capable of supplanting American aid.

U.S. DEMANDS POLES RECALL LIAISON AIDE

By The Associated Press

FRANKFURT, April 11 — The United States army today asked Polish authorities for the "immediate recall" of the chief of the Polish liaison section attached to U. S. army headquarters for "aggressively anti-United States speeches."

The request was sent by Lieut. Gen. Clarence R. M. Huebner, European command chief of staff, to the chief of the Polish military mission, Allied command authority, Berlin.

The text of Huebner's letter was as follows:

"I regret that circumstances prompt me to request the immediate recall of Col. Tadeusz Podwysocki, chief of the Polish liaison section accredited to this headquarters.

"My attention has been drawn to the fact that three times in the course of an evening, Col. Podwysocki, in the presence of a number of Allied officers, made aggressively anti-United States speeches.

"This expressed attitude is, of course, unbecoming an Allied officer, particularly when in the position occupied by Col. Podwysocki, and not be tolerated by his headquarters.

"I consider it most unfortunate to have to communicate with you on a subject of such disagreeable nature. However, I feel confident that you will understand the circumstances which make this action necessary."

COLUMBUS, O., April 11 — Ohio auto license plates next year will have black numbers on a lemon background. Edward T. Fogo, state registrar of motor vehicles, announced today.

Fogo also said that orders for two plates for each car had been placed with the Ohio penitentiary, which manufactures them.

ATHLETICS ASSISTANT FOR OHIO APPOINTED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 11—Ivan W. Davis, principal of Upper Arlington High school, today was appointed assistant commissioner of Ohio high school athletics, effective May 1, Commissioner H. M. Emswiler announced.

Davis, member of the Upper Arlington school system for 22 years, and principal of the high school the last six, was named by the state board of control. He was released from his present job by the board of education last night.

Principal duties of the new assistant commissioner, the first named in Ohio, will be to make an extensive study of the newly-adopted pupil-athlete insurance plan to be handled through the OHSAA office.

Davis will study insurance programs in operation in 27 states, and submit his suggestions to the state board. Commissioner Emswiler said he hoped to have the insurance plan effective by fall.

A graduate of Ohio university, Davis was a teacher and coach at Circleville for five years before coming to Upper Arlington, Columbus suburb, 22 years ago. He has been a prominent football and basketball official for almost a quarter-century, and has served on the high school association's central district and state boards of control.

Commissioner Emswiler said Davis' appointment would take a heavy load off his shoulders and permit him to "catch up with my work."

"I was far behind, and dropping further behind every day," Emswiler said.

"I was just about ready to throw up my hands and go fishing for a couple of days, but Davis will help us get back on an even keel. This is a two-man job, anyway."

County Clerk's Office March Receipts High

March receipts for the Marion county clerk of courts office totaled $3,364.17, according to a report today from Calvin Oborn, clerk of courts.

Last month's receipts were the highest this year. The increase was largely due, Clerk Oborn said, to additional fees received in the certificate of title office. He explained that many vehicle owners had lost their certificates of title during the year and had to get new ones before purchasing 1947 license plates.

Of the total amount received the sum turned over to the county's general fund was $1,360.80, representing fees collected in the clerk of courts office for services rendered in court actions, filing fees or notary commissions, real estate licenses and the clerk's portion of fees collected in the certificate of title office.

A total of $146.06 was turned over to the Marion county sheriff for the service of summons, injunctions, subpoenaes and various other court orders. A sum of $10.54 was turned over to the sheriff's offices of foreign counties for the same reasons.

The state bureau of motor vehicles received $393.30 as its share of fees collected in the title office and balance of the funds collected either has been or will be paid out by order of the court.

AP Scoops Seismograph On California Tremor

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 11—News of an earthquake near the California-Mexican border reached Cincinnati yesterday in an Associated Press news bulletin one minute before the seismograph at Xavier university here recorder the tremor at 11 03 a. m.

The first tremor was moving at a speed of between five and six miles a second when it was recorded here, 1,900 miles from its place of origin, Rev. Victor C. Stetchschulte, seismological laboratory director at Xavier, reported.

The Associated Press bulletin from Los Angeles, timed off at 11:02 a. m. had to be relayed eastward from Kansas City, causing a slight delay.

"MURDEROUS CUTS" IN LABOR FUNDS HIT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 11—The CIO said today that "murderous cuts" by the house in the labor department appropriation for the next fiscal year are part of a G O P. attempt "to kill the progressive program put into effect under President Roosevelt"

James B. Carey, CIO secretary-treasurer, said in a statement prepared for a senate appropriations subcommittee reviewing the house action:

"If Americans are not fully aroused to this danger today, they will understand the issues clearly by 1948."

Carey contended "The nation will lose far more in dollars as a result of the services that are slashed than will be saved on paper."

And he added:

"Under the tax bill of the house Republicans even these alleged savings will benefit huge taxpayers, not the man in the street."

The house reduced President Truman's $31,850,700 budget for the labor department for the 12 months starting July 1 to $18,136,200.

Carey declared the reduction would scuttle administration of the wage-hour act, which regulates the work week and minimum pay in interstate commerce, and the national labor relations act, which guarantees collective bargaining rights.

Even if the acts "remain in effect in form, they will have no substance if these budget cuts become law," Carey said.

In the afternoon the welcome was extended by Mrs Merle Parr, and the response was by Mrs. Elpha Kreisher of Mansfield. A memorial service and the Good of the Order were conducted. A class of 11 candidates was initiated in the evening.

Smallpox Warnings Sent Out After Traveler Dies

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 11 — The United States public health service prepared to issue warnings to four states today as a result of the discovery of four cases of smallpox here since an importer died of the disease March 10.

The bus in which the ill importer traveled from Mexico to New York City made stops in Texas, Missouri, Ohio and Pennsylvania and the importer and his wife, like other passengers, left the bus to eat in Texas, Missouri and Pennsylvania.

Dr. Roy E. Bodet, supervisor of the U. S. public health service quarantine station, said the bus stopped at St. Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Laredo and Dallas, Texas, and at another Texas town, the name of which the widow of the importer did not recall.

DRIVER FINED $100 AFTER HITTING THREE

Kentucky Man Loses Rights for Three Years.

Graham McGuire, 33, Lancer, Ky., motorist whose car struck three pedestrians following a automobile-truck collision Tuesday night at South Main and Church streets, was fined $100 and costs and his driving rights suspended for three years today in municipal court when he pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident

His companion, Velva DeLong, 23, of Edgar, Ky., received a suspended fine of $10 on a charge of being a suspicious person.

Police reported that McGuire's car hit a truck driven by Arlie E. Porter, 47 of 167 Clover avenue, went over the sidewalk at the northeast corner of the intersection and struck Mr. and Mrs. W P Hayden and their daughter Katherine, of 301 South Prospect street. The Hayden's were not reported seriously hurt although Mrs. Hayden suffered severe bruises. The car sheared off one parking meter and knocked down another.

McGuire then drove away down East Church street, Miss DeLong having gotten out He was seen shortly afterward on East Church street by a witness of the accident, Harold Runkle of 269 Superior street, and held by Runkle until police were called.

[illegible] supply began to give [illegible] slump in the in- [illegible] came during the pro- [illegible] when wine—an es- [illegible] to the stew—was banned [illegible] former U. S. bureau of fisheries began studying artificial cultivation methods in 1902 and 10 years later established the world's largest diamond-backed terrapin hatchery here. It has produced 240,000 young turtles for experimental and breeding purposes and to restock coastal areas.

Uncle Sam adopts the eggs as soon as the females lay them in the warm sand and waddle forgetfully back into the water. The sun hatches them, and the government houses them through their first winter to protect them from minks, rats and seagulls. After they awake from their hibernation they are turned loose to operate under the free enterprise system.

Terrapins are prolific to a ripe old age. Some matronly turtles are still laying eggs at 50 years. The hatchery's brood stock of 372 stud turtles and 2,071 females produced 11,370 young last year, valued at $5,000 if sold commercially.

Still Luxury Item

Terrapin stew is again increasing in popularity but it is still in the class of high-priced luxury foods.

"The demands and market value of the terrapin may again justify the establishment of terrapin farms in southern coastal areas where a cheap supply of food—trash, fish and crab scrap—is available," said Dr. Herbert F. Prytherch, head of the Beaufort laboratory who also is shipping terrapins to the West Coast for introduction in wild life refuges there.

The difficulty is it takes five to 10 years for a terrapin to grow to market size.

Some 50,000 pounds of wild terrapin were captured last year, but they are still too scarce to fit the budget of the lower income classes.

Outlining other commercial possibilities for fish farmers too impatient to wait a decade for a turtle to ripen into stew meat, Dr. Prytherch said:

"Young diamond-back terrapins could profitably be raised and sold as pets for America's 35-million children."

The mere suggestion of such heresy would startle the ileo-cecal valves of such renowned old malacolemmys centrata addicts as "Diamond Jim" Brady.

3 MARION PLANTS WITHOUT MISHAPS

Safety Records Reported at Meeting of Council.

Three Marion industries reported no industrial accidents in March when the Industrial Safety council of the Marion Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday noon in the Y M C A.

They were the Arro Expansion Bolt Co., Colonial Poultry Farms, Inc. and the Fairfield Engineering Co.

Speakers on the program, in charge of M. S. Dickenson, vice chairman of the council, were E. I. Evans, president of the E. I. Evans Co. of Columbus, consulting actuaries, and Sidney Smith of Mansfield, safety advisor for the Ohio Industrial commission.

Mr. Evans talked on employer control of workman's compensation rates by a vigorous campaign to reduce accidents in industry and Mr. Smith's subject was "Plan Your Safety Campaign."

Besides the speakers other guests were Dr. Don Murphy, Dr. Edward D'Orazio, J. Arthur Keever and Robert Syster, all of Marion.

BUCYRUS SENIOR HIGH IN SCHOLARSHIP TEST

Robert Edsinger Shares Second Place Honors With John Gill.

MINE SAFETY LAWS CALLED CERTAINTY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 11—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said today federal legislation tightening coal mine safety requirements is an "inevitable" result of the death-dealing explosion at Centralia, Ill.

The Wyoming lawmaker told a reporter he agrees "entirely" with Secretary of the Interior Krug that the bureau of mines should be given authority to require the correction of unsafe mine conditions "wherever found."

O'Mahoney expressed his conviction as a senate public lands sub-committee investigating the Centralia disaster assembled to hear further testimony by Capt. N. H. Collisson, federal coal mines administrator.

O'Mahoney, a member of the sub-committee, also endorsed Krug's recommendation that the bureau of mines be given a much larger inspection staff.

"Actually, that is the most important thing we have got to see to," O'Mahoney said. Legislation covering safety requirements is inevitable.

While the probe went on, so did Lewis' "safety shutdown" in the soft coal pits. But it apparently is dwindling in scope. The coal mines administration reported that soft coal production yesterday was 51 per cent of normal. And the agency said that 155,723 miners were on the job—100,000 of them members of the UMW. That is about 25 per cent of the union's soft coal contingent.

LILIENTHALS ATTEND DINNER — David E. Lilienthal and his wife chat while attending a DePauw university alumni dinner in Washington. Earlier, the senate confirmed the former TVA chief as chairman of the atomic energy commission, which has authority over atomic power for peace or war. The vote was 50 to 31. Lilienthal, 47 years old, had been assailed by the opposition as being too lenient toward Communism while his backers praised him as a believer in true democracy.

CHURCH DOORS OPEN FOR RELIEF CLOTHING

Gifts Will Go To Impoverished People Abroad.

For the next three Sundays the churches of the county will leave their doors open all day to receive donations of used clothing for overseas relief, Rev. Eldred Johnston, president of the Marion Council of Churches, the organization sponsoring the drive, has stated.

Those who have donations are asked to take them either to their own church or to the church in their community.

Rev. Johnston stated that all sorts of clothing is needed, "just so it is clean and in good condition." Besides clothing, other needs are shoes, diapers, layettes, linens, bed covers, blankets, and pieces of material that can be used for mending.

Anyone unable to bring donations to the churches are asked to phone the nearest church for pick-up service.

"Those who have no clothing to donate may help the cause by donating financial help, for it costs 15 cents per pound to cover freight and shipment abroad," Rev. Johnston declared.

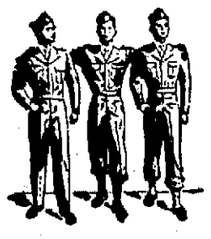
This is the temporary world-wide pattern of our new post-war Army. Under every far-flung American flag, Army men are working, teaching, protecting. Whatever the surroundings, they are eating plenty of good American food and playing at the sports they've always loved

Pattern for peace



Yes—these men fit the pattern. You don't see their names in the headlines. You see only the day-to-day threats to international security which the mere existence of these well-equipped, well-trained men helps to dispel. For your new Regular Army is a team—so co-ordinated and so streamlined that every man's job counts heavily toward our vital post-war goals here and abroad.

Every American citizen can be proud that these goals are being attained with a minimum number of men.

This efficiency stems from an all-out spirit of purpose. Today, Regular Army men know where they're going. They are soundly indoctrinated in our commitments in these four corners of the earth. They know that much of the permanent success of world peace depends upon their training, tact and firmness.

While thousands are creating good-will and establishing justice abroad, many thousands more are perfecting new equipment and techniques at home. To mention only a few—they've developed a rocket take-off device which enables a B-29 to use 700-foot runways—instead of those 3000 feet and longer. The Chemical Corps has adapted flame throwers to runway ice melters, surplus liquid fire materials to pure soap, smoke generators to orchard crop protectors. These developments—and more—are finding their way into civilian industry and agriculture.

The Regular Army served the nation and mankind victoriously in the war just past. It is serving now to make a bright new tomorrow a better today for everybody.

LEGAL NOTICE

Hort Gast and Laura Gast, his wife, Floyd Gast and Lelah Gast, his wife, all of whom reside at Merritt Island, Florida, and Forest Dowell and Olive Dowell, his wife, John Merle Gast, Betty Gast Doe and John Doe, her husband, the married name of said Betty Gast as well as the name of her husband being unknown, Ethel Montague and — Montague, her husband, whose first name is unknown and the unknown heirs and devisees of Albert Eugene Eversole and Ella Eversole, both deceased, all of whose places of residence are unknown and cannot be ascertained will take notice that on the 3rd day of February, 1947, the plaintiff, Leo K. Wolf, as administrator of the estate of Albert Eugene Eversole, deceased, filed his petition against them, among others in the Probate Court of Marion County, Ohio, the same being cause No. 16567 in said Court for sale of real property owned by the decedent, Albert Eugene Eversole, which real property is bounded and described as follows:

Situated in the County of Marion, State of Ohio and in the Township of Prospect and bounded and described as follows:

Commencing at the Northeast corner of a tract of land conveyed on the 2nd day of May, 1887, by James Day and wife to William J. Moore recorded May 11th, 1887 in Marion County Deed Record Volume 63 page 341; thence west on the north line of said tract of land to the N. Y. P. & O. Railroad, formerly the A. & G. Railroad, thence southwest on the east line of said railroad company's land to land formerly owned by C. M. Clay and wife; thence east along the line of land formerly owned by C. M. Clay and his wife to the center of the road running north and south on the east of said land; thence north following the center of said road to the place of beginning, containing four and one-half (4½) acres of land, more or less and being the premises described in Volume 67 page 415 Deed Records, Marion County, Ohio.

The prayer of said petition is for the sale of said property to pay the debts of said decedent and a part of the relief prayed for is the barring of all of the defendants herein, among others, from all right, title and interest in and to the aforementioned property and for other relief. Said defendants are required to answer said petition on or before the 26th day of April, 1947, or judgment will be rendered against them.

Leo K. Wolf, Administrator of the Estate of Albert Eugene Eversole, deceased.

ANTI-TRUST COUNT FACES NINE FIRMS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 11—Attorney General Clark yesterday announced indictment of nine corporations and seven individuals on anti-trust charges of conspiracy in the sale of equipment to "a nationwide combine of city bus lines."

The indictment by a federal grand jury at Los Angeles alleges, Clark said, "conspiracy to restrain and monopolize domestic trade in violation of the anti-trust laws in the sale of buses, tires, tubes and petroleum products" to the bus lines controlled by National City Lines, Inc.

The attorney general said these companies were named in the indictment:

National City Lines, Inc., American City Lines, Inc., Pacific City Lines Inc., Standard Oil company of California, Federal Engineering Corp., Phillips Petroleum Co., General Motors Corp., Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., and Mack Manufacturing Corp.

Clark said the indictment also named these individuals as defendants:

E. Roy Fitzgerald, Chicago, and Foster G. Beamsley, Chicago, president and vice president respectively of National City Lines; H. C. Grossman, Detroit, Mich., assistant secretary of General Motors; Henry C. Judd, San Francisco, treasurer of Standard Oil of California and of Federal Engineering Corp., L. R. Jackson, Akron, O., vice president of Firestone Tire and Rubber; Frank B. Stradley, Bartlesville, Okla., secretary-treasurer of Phillips Petroleum Company; A. M. Hughes, Bartlesville, Okla., vice president and director of Phillips Petroleum.

Republican Women Name Meeting Delegates

The Republican Women's club held a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the headquarters, with Mrs. Emma Oborn presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. N. Harder. Mrs. Harder was named to attend the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's convention April 28-29 in Cleveland, and Mrs. M. Giles was named to attend an American citizenship committee meeting at the convention. Plans were made for a card party to be held in the near future, and a report of membership was given. The next meeting will be May 13 with a potluck dinner at 12 o'clock in the headquarters.

Class Hears Definition Of "Man of the Hour"

The "Man of the Hour" is one completely devoted to God, Rev. Henry Maag of the Prospect Street Methodist church told members of the Wednesday Noon Bible class at the Y.M.C.A.

He named three attributes of such a man: wholehearted devotion to God, loyalty to God's program, and vital interest in humanity.

He cited examples of historical and Biblical figures whose lives were incomplete until they embraced Christianity, among whom were Nicodemus, the rich young ruler, Martin Luther and John Wesley.

Carl Campbell, president of the class, is acting as program chairman for the month.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Tonsil Operation

It is a well-known fact that the most frequent operation in the United States today—and for many years past—is that for the removal of tonsils. What is less well known is that at times these operations are incomplete with the result that tonsil stumps remain to cause infection and menace health.

That, at any rate, is the opinion of a father-and-son team of doctors of Indianapolis. Drs. Carl B Sputh Jr. and Sr., who estimate that by the age of 16 years, one-third of all children have had their tonsils removed.

According to these doctors, the majority of persons with infected tonsil stumps are not conscious of any discomfort in the throat. Rather, the infection seems to affect the whole body and patients complain of feeling tired, losing weight, joint pains, pains in the arms and legs and, in some cases, frequent attacks of fever.

In some patients, there is chronic infection of the sinuses connected with the nose, or of the middle part of the ear.

In children there may be repeated attacks of sore throat and enlargement of the lymph glands in the neck.

In order to make a diagnosis of infected tonsil stumps, a careful examination is necessary. On such examination the tonsil stump usually may be seen. However, in some cases it may be hidden by scar tissue.

The tonsillar stump may appear reddened and swollen. Of course, not all tonsil stumps are infected, but such infection does appear to take place in many cases.

The treatment recommended is, of course, removal of this tonsillar tissue. The mere fact that it is present does not mean that the physician who performed the original operation was careless, as tonsil tissue may regrow from only a few cells which may have been left after operation.

Before the tonsillar stumps are removed, the Doctors Sputh recommend that the teeth and gums be carefully examined and any infections present in them be cleared up. After removal of the tonsil stumps, of course, all symptoms which were produced by them will disappear. The operation itself is not a difficult one to carry out, and complications do not usually occur.

Bucyrus Man Hurt In Traffic Accident

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 11—Raymond Ensey, 39, of Bucyrus, mechanic for the Oliver Sales Co., is still confined to City hospital with a back injury, the extent of which has not been determined, as the result of an accident three miles north of Bucyrus Wednesday night.

Ensey was unable to account for losing control of the repair truck which he was driving but Sheriff Ralph Schreck said that he believed a blowout was responsible for the accident which threw the truck against a farm building along the highway and then into a telephone pole.

GALION TO PURCHASE GENERATING UNIT

Special to The Star

GALION, April 11—A contract has been awarded for purchase of a 1,800 horsepower Diesel generating unit producing 1136 kilowatts an hour, for the city of Galion.

The unit will be installed as a standby generator in case of emergency for operation of the water system, hospital and disposal plant in case of failure of the steam turbine generators at the Galion Municipal Light and Power plant.

The contract was awarded to the successful bidder, Fairbanks, Morse and Co. of Chicago by the board of control, consisting of Mayor William Amann and Service Director K. A. Foster. Installation cost will be $102,000 with work to be completed by next Christmas, city officials said.

Meanwhile, manufacturers of the city are awaiting a proposal from city officials regarding a limited franchise for one or more of their factories to allow power to be purchased from outside sources until the city plant is enlarged to provide ample reserve power.

Councilmen who met in a special session Wednesday night are seeking legal advice pertaining to the engineer problem before granting the proposed franchise.

The manufacturers have not yet named their three-man committee to be added to the mayor's committee for the purpose of studying the power needs of Galion's industry.

GEORGE PICKETT DIES

KENTON — Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. today for George F. Pickett, 52, prominent Hardin county farmer.

CIRCLE GIVES PROGRAM

The Lorcas circle of Central Christian church met Thursday with Mrs. Dorothy Dunn on Oak street. Mrs. Frank Snyder served as assistant hostess. Mrs. George Pickering opened the meeting with prayer and devotions were given by Mrs. H. J. Hartsel.

The program, in charge of Mrs. Clark Crail, consisted of a poem, "When the Sun Set on Behind Calvary," by Mrs. Ann Clark, a story, "The Man Who Helped Barnabas Twice," by Mrs. Ralph Snyder, articles on Puerto Rico by Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, Mrs. Ruth Lundquist, Mrs. Frank Snyder and Mrs. H. J. Hartsel, and a story, "Sacrifice," told by Mrs. Crail. Sacrificial offerings were placed by the members on a table lighted with candles, and prayer was by Mrs. Nettie Gessler.

Plans were made for a Mother-Daughter tea to be held Sunday from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the church. The May meeting will be at the home of Mrs. William Hamor on King avenue.

Pleads Not Guilty To Charge in Court

Harrison Jones, 35, of 494 West Center street pleaded not guilty Friday in municipal court to a charge of assault with intent to kill and hearing was set for Tuesday morning. He was released on $500 bond after being arrested yesterday.

Jones is accused by William C. Houpt of 122 South High street of threatening him with a revolver after a disagreement over some chickens.

HARDIN CO. NATIVE DIES

KENTON—John R. Monson, a former employe of the News Republican paper at Kenton, died at his home in South Pasadena, Calif., at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday. He was a native of Hardin county moving to California several years ago.

Bucyrus Fire Loss Doubles in 1946

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 11—Fire loss in Bucyrus in 1946 nearly doubled the 1945 figure with per capita loss set at $6.52 for the year, according to the annual report prepared by Fire Chief William F. Mader. Loss per capita in 1945 was $3.41.

Loss in 1946 was $65,227.83, chief of which was the city block owned by the fire chief which was destroyed Oct. 9.

Per capita loss was under the 1944 figure when two chain five and ten cent stores were destroyed less than three weeks apart for the total loss for the year of $180,631.

Of the 1946 loss, $24,284.86 was uninsured.

Firemen answered 129 alarms in 1946 as against 78 in the previous year.

Among the causes of fires listed for the year were defective wiring, cigarets and smoking in bed, overheated furnaces, motors, exploding stoves, electric irons and children playing with matches.

Mothers' Study Club Of Edison P.-T.A. Meets

When the Mothers' Study club of the Edison Junior High school P.-T.A. met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. William Tharp of 223½ West Columbia, announcement was made of appointment of Mrs. [illegible] as leader. Mrs. Melvin Stanley has been appointed secretary, and Mrs. Donald Huber, treasurer. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Cecil Noble. Mrs. Robert Yazel gave the treasurer's report, and Mrs. Noble read the report of secretary. Topics presented were "Letters to Joan," by Mrs. Merwyn Harruff, and "Democracy Begins at Home," Mrs. Lewis Duckworth, Mrs. Carl Flinchbaugh was a guest. Refreshments in keeping with Easter were served by Mrs. Glenn Riddle, Mrs. Musgrave and Mrs. Tharp. A meeting May 1 will be held at Ringer's inn with Mrs. Harruff and Mrs. Yazel in charge of entertainment.

65 Attend Second Golf Clinic Session

William Alves, of the Marion Country club, conducted the second and final golf clinic at the Y Thursday night. An estimated 65 persons attended. This was a slightly larger turnout than last week's session.

Alves, whose golfing experience has been extensive dating back to 1913, explained all phases of golfing and answering questions.

He had been scheduled to explain the use of the irons but also demonstrated use of the woods for the benefit of the people who did not attend the first clinic.

EASTER PROGRAM GIVEN

Circle 4 of the Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harry Scribner on Orchard street. Mrs. Everett Grigsby was assistant hostess. Mrs. M. A. Mickley conducted devotions and Mrs. Henry Kraner was in charge of an Easter program. A social hour followed the meeting.

...n the United States ...ing an over-all rising ...there is evidence in ...s of the country of a ...

...ne citizen is spending ...ously and retail sales ...ing to drop in some ...s one of the first things the economists watch for as warning of a readjustment and possible recession.

In general, American industrial production is running ahead of last year and employment is high.

Kansas City, St. Louis, Dallas and San Francisco are among the centers where the fall in department store unit sales is most noticeable, according to a survey made by Associated Press bureaus throughout the country. A production decline is reported from Philadelphia.

Business Generally Booming

In general, however, business is booming The public still needs automobiles, refrigerators, electrical appliances and other durable goods There was $28,247,000,000 in circulation last week, up $77,000,000 from the preceding week and $335,000,000 above a year ago. It was only slightly below the all-time high of $29,163,000,000 for the last Christmas period ending Dec 26.

This is the current situation across the country in key centers

Boston — Massachusetts department of labor reports state's employment and payrolls rising slightly Sales in 47 New England department stores up 15 per cent in March in dollar volume over last year.

New York — Savings deposits hit all-time high in New York City in February at $7,390,000,000 compared with $6 698,000,000 in February, 1946. Factory workers' earnings at new high of $58 56 weekly in February, up five cents over January and well over the 1946 figures of $51.86 for January and $49.35 for February.

Foreign Trade Up Sharply

Foreign trade, employing about 10 per cent of New Yorkers and important to the whole country, up sharply in first quarter, and John K. Whitaker, vice president of the Commerce and Industry Association of New York and president of a large exporting firm, says "all indications are that 1947 will be a record year in the export trade."

Philadelphia — Production of both durable and consumer goods declining since December. Slight expansion in building material and chemicals. Construction far below mid-1946 but has started slight upswing. Retail sales leveling off. Employment steady in Pennsylvania factories. Shipbuilding down slightly, steel and non-ferrous metal industries up slightly Some labor shortages in professional and manufacturing trades.

Richmond — Department store, retail furniture sales up over year ago. Building permits jumped from $11,885,000 in January to $17 111,528 in February, two months' total $3,871 327 over 1946 Fifth federal reserve district bank, says business in district "still showing rising trend," particularly in wholesale trade except dry goods, drugs and groceries

Atlanta — Employment and income from farm marketings running above last year in seven southeastern states Twenty members of federal reserve bank reported loans to commercial, industrial and agricultural firms of $336,000,000 in January, 36 per cent above last year.

Cleveland — First federal reserve district's 90 department stores report dollar sales up 11 per cent over last year in first quarter. Production in Cleveland area for this period, on man-hour basis, best since reconversion month of September, 1945. Chamber of Commerce reports first quarter production within five per cent of V-J day level. At the same time unemployment up two per cent in Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky area since January.

Chicago — Generally, current business conditions in Chicago area holding level with Jan. 1. Slight production drop as inventories catch up. Retail sales steady in volume but demand off for luxury and semi-luxury goods. Freight traffic somewhat heavier. Employment improved. Illinois labor market tight

Minneapolis — Business and industrial conditions leveling off but holding up in dollar volume. Employment still high, continued tight labor market in prospect. Farm income holding high Award of building contracts holding up, running ahead of nation as a whole.

St. Louis — Over-all industrial activity of Eighth federal reserve district shows increase over last year William H. Sted, vice president of Eighth district bank, expects increase to continue through 1947. Manufacturing output increased, lumber and Kentucky distillery production up. Meat packing declined seasonally, coal and oil production fell and number of building permits issued decline in first two months of this year. Retail sales down in February and early March Sale of durable goods up

Kansas City — Tenth federal reserve district reports department store sales in March up three per cent over year ago but six per cent below first two months of 1947. Flour production in February about same as last year but four per cent off January of this year. Meat packing up 28 per cent on cattle and 51 per cent on calves for first two months of 1947 compared to 1946, but hog slaughtering off 14 per cent and sheep off 39 per cent in same comparison. Kansas City night clubs having slack season, but movies still busy.

Dallas — Bureau of business research of University of Texas reports industrial production generally increased in first quarter of 1947 and stands well above 1946. Manufacturing employment in Texas 10.9 per cent higher in February than a year earlier. Building industry running strong. Petroleum refining declined some over a year ago; demand still high and stocks low. The university bureau reports that the physical volume of retail sales is the only major phase of Texas business activity to show a decline in the first quarter of 1947, being down about 6 per cent over a year ago. Furthermore, percentage of goods sold on credit is increasing, collection of outstanding accounts declining.

San Francisco — Pacific coast production running well ahead of 1946 but physical volume of retail trade even with or slightly below last year. Coast transportation advisory board estimates that second quarter carloadings will be eight per cent above 1946. Federal reserve reports show business and real estate loans climbing, with former more than $500,000,000 above 1946 and latter nearly $150,000,000 ahead.

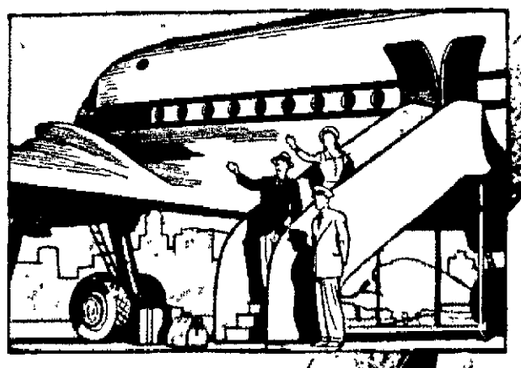
Swift & Company announces a great Contest—for women only!



WIN A TRIP AROUND THE WORLD ...BY PAN AMERICAN CLIPPER FOR TWO! OR $10,000 CASH!

ALL THESE OTHER PRIZES!

2 PRIZES—each a 1947 De Luxe Ford Sedan

25 PRIZES— $100.00 each

1,000 PRIZES— $10.00 each

LONDON PARIS TURKEY INDIA HONOLULU

Because this amazing new-type lard is super-superior, Swift has given it a New Name to be announced soon. Don't you think it's a good idea? If you do, just complete the jingle below and enter this great Prize Contest.

TO HELP YOU WIN

First, read these sensational facts about Swift's Bland Lard. They explain why we have decided to give this remarkable shortening a new name that really does it justice. And they'll help you get ideas for a good last line to the jingle.

TASTELESS, ODORLESS. Special refining methods make this creamy new-type lard completely bland.

CREAMS EASILY. Yes, this lard makes grand cakes. It's tasteless, odorless, and creamable.

DEEP-FRIES WITHOUT SMOKING. The smoke point of Swift's Bland Lard is even higher than that of costliest shortenings.

NEEDS NO REFRIGERATION. A patented Swift process keeps this amazing lard fresh at room temperature. It's always easy to work with.

MAKES EXTRA FLAKY PIECRUST. Scientific tests prove that pastry made with Swift's Bland Lard is extra flaky.

NUTRITIOUS! DIGESTIBLE! No other shortening is more digestible than Swift's Bland Lard. And it contains two vital nutritional elements in superior quantity to shortenings of other types.

Now, read the jingle carefully and start thinking about a last line. Your line should rhyme with the word "by". For example: "No praise can be too high"; or "For perfect cakes and pie". It's a good idea to make a list of words that rhyme with "by". And it's easy—there are lots of rhyming words.

FOR MORE CONTEST TIPS —tune in Don McNeill's Breakfast Club, Monday mornings.

Because this amazing new-type lard is super-superior, Swift has given it a New Name to be announced soon. Don't you think it's a good idea? If you do, just complete the jingle below and enter this great Prize Contest.

"SEEMS TO ME LIKE A SPECIAL NAME WE CALL
THIS FINER SHORTENING OF
WHITE CLOUD LARD NOT FITTING FOR ALL

(Fill in this line, to rhyme with "by". For example: "No praise can be too high.")

Here's your chance for the adventure of a lifetime . . . a trip around the world by air! All expenses paid and a thousand dollars spending money to boot! Four glamorous weeks . . . you'll visit Honolulu, Hong Kong, India, the famous battlefields of the war. Step off in Brussels, Paris, London. And to make it absolutely perfect, this is a trip for two. Your husband, daughter, or best friend can share it all with you. Or, if you prefer to go alone, you get the trip plus $5,000 cash! Or you can take the full cash equivalent instead of the trip—$10,000 in a lump sum!

And that's not all. There are over a thousand additional prizes, including two brand new Ford sedans.

So you see this is a contest you just must enter. An easy contest, for women only. Clip the rules—enter now.

RULES. 1. Print or write plainly your last line for the Swift's Bland Lard jingle on the entry coupon printed in this advertisement or on a plain piece of paper. Print your name and address on the coupon or paper. 2. Get a trusty Entry Blank from your dealer, or use any piece of paper. Print your name and address plainly. Write your last line for the jingle on the coupon or paper. 3. Any person may enter except employees of Swift & Company, its advertising agency, and the families of employees. 4. This contest is open to residents of the United States (except employees of Swift & Company, its advertising agency, and the families of employees) and Canada, wherever Swift's Bland Lard is sold. 5. Contest closes midnight, May 15, 1947. Entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, May 15, 1947. 6. Winners will be notified by mail. Prizes will be awarded by a committee of judges whose decisions will be final. In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded. 7. Contest void where prohibited by law. All federal, state and local regulations apply.

Kochan - Fox Fight On WMRN Tonight

Philadelphia's Billy Fox and Manhattan's Georgie Kochan (above) clash in a ten-round light-heavyweight bout that will be broadcast from New York over the ABC Network tonight.

Before being stopped by Gus Lesnevich in a title match recently, Fox ran up a string of 43 consecutive kayoes. Noted as a body puncher, Blackjack Billy is basically a slugger. While he has stiffened plenty of foes with each duke, his powerful right hand is considered the most lethal.

Kochan also possesses dynamite-laden mauling and has little truck with fistic finesse. He's an exciting scrapper and a definite threat to any championship aspirant Georgie's out for blood tonight, since Fox nailed him to the canvas about a year and a half ago in a terrific struggle.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and WMRN (1490 on your dial) at 10 p. m.

And remember, men . . . LOOK sharp! FEEL sharp! BE sharp! Use Gillette Blue Blades with the sharpest edges ever honed!

MEET THE CUBS

3rd Sacker Meyers Likely To Sign 2nd Contract This Year

Bob Meyers, 19, a contracted third baseman now with the Marion Cubs, has indicated that he may ink another contract before the present season is completed its chief clauses, he reveals—and he won't need a release from the locals to sign—concern love, honor, and obey

He didn't name the party with whom he plans to enter into a working agreement but says that she lives in his home town, Lorain

Meyers has had slight experience in organized baseball, playing several games with Statesville before entering the Navy.

At Lorain he played high school baseball and also was a member of the school's football and basketball teams.

Before coming to Marion this year he worked out at the Cubs' GI training in St Augustine, Fla

Besides the sports mentioned above he also has played with ice-hockey teams.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 11—In a note to baseball historian Ernie Lanigan, John A. Heydler, for many years president of the National league, describes Frank Frisch as "the best all-round second baseman of all National league history." . . . Anybody want to argue? . . . There might be a lot of votes for the late Johnny Evers, but Joe Tinker and Fred Clarke, listing the best players they played with or against, named a pair of American leaguers, Eddie Collins and Larry Lajoie, for that position . . .

California, Here I Come

Dr. Franklin Snyder, Northwestern U. prexy, tells this story about Coach Lynn Waldorf's decision to move to California . . . After receiving the California job, Pappy entered the prexy office and said: "I'll never be as happy as I have been here, but doctor, it's like this. You and I both were raised in a parsonage. We both know that 10 to 12 years of preaching to one congregation is enough. It is high time that I moved on to another congregation."

Sports Before Your Eyes

Columbus, Ohio, fans hear that Ohio State can land the eastern N.C.A.A. basketball playoffs in a couple of years if an adequate field house is provided. That ties in with opinion heard during the cage coaches convention that it was time to move out of New York again.

JACKIE ROBINSON TO PLAY WITH BROOKLYN

First Negro To Make Majors Happy About Whole Thing.

By The Associated Press

BROOKLYN, April 11—"I am on the spot and I know it. But I'm prepared for it. I am certain I can win them over in Brooklyn as I did in Montreal."

That was the observation today of Jackie Robinson—first Negro ever to reach the major leagues in modern organized baseball.

The brilliant 28-year-old former U.C.L.A. all-around athlete, who bids fair to become a drawing card rivalling Bob Feller and Ted Williams, was still in a daze over the swiftly moving events which made him a Dodger yesterday

"It feels wonderful to be a major leaguer, even if I haven't actually played in the big leagues yet," Robinson beamed. "I hope I can justify everybody's faith in me."

The star second baseman, who had been asked to move to a strange position at first base by his Montreal manager, Clay Hopper, at the request of Branch Rickey, Brooklyn president, said it mattered little to him where he played, as long as he saw action

Indians and Giants End Exhibition Series Today

By The Associated Press

RICHMOND, Va., April 11—The Cleveland Indians and the New York Giants wind up their southern exhibitions with the 15th game of their annual spring series here today.

The final two games of the barnstorming tour will be played in New York's Polo grounds tomorrow and Sunday and the Indians are scheduled to arrive in Cleveland Monday morning

Bob Feller, who will hurl the opener, was treated rudely at Danville, Va, yesterday and the Giants coasted in with an 11 to 4 victory to run their series lead to 8-6

Reds Confident They Have 20-Game Winner

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., April 11—The Cincinnati Reds feel pretty confident that for the first time since 1943 they have a pitcher who can win 20 games

He's Ewell Blackwell, a six-foot five-inch right-hander, who played his first full season of major league ball last year and topped the National league in shutouts with an even half-dozen

"Blackie" as he is known to his fellow-Redlegs, won only nine while losing 13 in 1946, but his showing during the current training season has convinced Cincinnati officials that he can turn the 20-game trick this season. Elmer Riddle last did it in 1943 while losing 11.

Blackwell had his blazing fast ball under control yesterday when he scattered seven Boston hits and helped his mates to a 5-0 victory over the Red Sox at Roanoke, Va

Cub Manager's Wife Gives Best Performance of Day

By GEORGE ROEST

If Marion ever needs a good outfielder there is a candidate available any time.

She is Mrs Nelson Burbrink, wife of the Cub manager, who yesterday gave the best performance of the day as the Marion ball club held its first batting practice.

Mrs. Burbrink, who is a rabid baseball fan, and has attended all the practice sessions to date, fielded a pop fly to the bleachers perfectly And without the services of a fielder's glove

Manager Burbrink said the results of the batting practice were satisfactory but it's still too early in the training period to say he's going to have a hitting team.

He explained the chief purpose of yesterday's session was to give the players a chance to get their swing timed to meet the ball squarely.

Batting practice ran from 11 in the morning through 12 noon and afterwards the pitchers worked out and another infield practice was held with players trading at the various positions Outfielders were given practice in fielding fly balls

The weather yesterday was the best it has been since the Cubs started spring workouts Tuesday For this reason the players again did a lot of running to work winter's kinks out of their systems.

Players Bob Myers and Jim Forbes served them up to the batters yesterday. Neither is a candidate for a mound position but they worked out at the Cub GI training camp in Florida last month and are a little more advanced than most of the other players

The pitching staff has been twirling for two days now and Burbrink expects to let them throw at today's practice

Durocher Affair Inspires Ohioan to Burst of Poetry

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio Associated Press Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O, April 11—Bits of this and that, from here and there

While the folks of Flatbush fumed and fretted at Baseball Commissioner Happy Chandler's ruling which batted Lippy Leo Durocher out of baseball for a year, most Ohioans took a broad g[illegible] view of it all.

Paul Hornung of the Columbus Dispatch even waxed poetic, composing the following thoughtful lyric

Lippy has one consolation
Midst his anguish and his pain
He'll now nate 24 hours a day
To devote to sweet Laraine

* * *

The baseball commissioner probably will replace Noel Coward the British author and actor as public enemy No 1 in that fabulous stacked up city on yon side of Brooklyn bridge—the only spot in the world which boasts a "society for the prevention of derogatory remarks about our town"

* * *

We can just see old Judge Landis up there right now, allowing himself a smile, for surely he's pleased that Chandler has stepped up and taken a swing at the abstract something he first termed detrimental to baseball"

* * *

Bill Moeller of Hamilton stayed off the Chandler-Durocher theme long enough to observe that

"It looks like the letters in the last name of Stan Musial stand for 'most underpaid star in any league."

* * *

And Herman Goldstein of Cleveland came up with an interesting bit of football about Paul Brown who coached the Cleveland Browns to the All-America conference title last fall and who is generally regarded as the pro game's No 1 mentor

Brown Goldstein said, was an interested student last week at a clinic held by John Sutherland coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers

He quoted Brown:

"Jock is good for men at this time of year Over the winter you begin to wonder if there isn't some easy way to win football games Jock, with his sound ideas, brings me down to earth

Who'll Manage Bums Is Latest Guessing Game

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 11—Baseball's latest guessing game—Who will manage the Dodgers?—was in full swing today as speculators sought to locate a successor to the exiled Leo Durocher

Branch Rickey, president of the Brooks, provided some fuel for the fanning bee with his comment that any of the three coaches or even some one outside the organization could be named manager of the club.

And while Rickey professed to be completely stumped in picking anything more definite a rumor mill buzzed with the mention of such possible candidates as Joe McCarthy, former manager of the New York Yankees, Bill Terry, ex-pilot of the Giants and Frankie Frisch, who quit the Pittsburgh Pirates last year

McCarthy, in retirement since early last season, is reported not in the best of health Terry is in private business in Memphis Tenn., while Frisch is embarking on a job of broadcasting the Giants games this season.

Immediate speculation centered on the Dodger coaches, Clyde Sukeforth, whom Rickey has appointed to serve as pilot pro tem Ray Blades, and Jake Pitler—none of whom are reorted to be particulary anxious to step in the driver's seat.

RED "CONGRESSMAN." Unlike American legislators, Alexei Aiba, a deputy to the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R.—which is the equivalent of a U. S. congressman—also has a laborers' job. One of the better known miners in Russian Georgia, he is shown in his working clothes.

TRANSPORT TIEUP HITS OKLAHOMA CITY

By The Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 11—Oklahoma City's 250,000 citizens awoke this morning to find themselves without bus or streetcar service after drivers refused to cross another union's picket lines around the car barn.

Oklahoma Railway Company drivers, reporting to take out early morning runs, found members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen picketing. The Oklahoma Railway Company drivers are members of the Amalgamated Association of Motor Coach and Street Car Operators of America (AFL) Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen members are striking for higher wages against the Oklahoma Transportation Company which is owned by the Oklahoma Railway company, operators of city bus and street car service.

Tom Chesher, local chairman of the BRT, which is striking against the Inter-City Oklahoma Transportation Company which serves Arkansas, Oklahoma and Kansas, said that the picket lines were thrown up at 2:45 a. m. (CST) today after the railway company had been warned to quit repairing OTC buses.

Chesher said the railway company had refused and "there was nothing else to do but put up picket lines."

Col. M. D. Mills, general manager of the railway company, said his company had been repairing heavy engine equipment for the other company a month.

"Chesher or no other member of the union asked us to stop," Mills said. "If they had asked us, we would have stopped."

Infant Daughter Dies Near Little Sandusky

Esther Yvonne Cooper, four-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Cooper of near Little Sandusky, died in their home at 2 p. m. yesterday. She was born there Monday, a daughter of Benjamin and Wilma Hyatt Cooper, the father a native of Morehead, Ky., and the mother of Fleming county, Ky.

Surviving with the parents are brothers and sisters, Benjamin H., Freda A., Gladys M., and Charles David.

The body was brought to the Boyd and Uncapher funeral home on West Columbia street, and private funeral services were set for 1 p. m. today in charge of Rev. Carroll of Marion, with burial in Marion cemetery.

Fire Threatens Scout Camp Area Buildings

A grass fire in the woods at Boy Scout Camp Owens yesterday afternoon burned over a three-acre area and threatened camp buildings before it was brought under control by members of the Almendinger fire fighting unit of Prospect and Marion County Sheriff LeRoy Retterer.

The fire was discovered about 2:30 p. m. and had spread to within a few feet of the camp buildings before it was extinguished. Boy Scout officials said the caretaker of the camp had been burning rubbish in the woods and sparks apparently had ignited dry leaves and grass. A strong wind caused the fire to spread rapidly across the ground.

MARKET EXHIBITS RECOVERY TENDENCY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 11—Special stocks exhibited quiet recovery tendencies today although many market leaders continued their creeping retreat.

Professional contingents bid lightly for selected issues on the idea the list was due for a technical comeback. The return to work of more coal miners provided a prop for sentiment.

Dealings were slow from the start. While favorites added fractions to a point or so, losers were plentiful near the fourth hour.

American Airlines edged into new high ground for 1947. Ahead most of the time were Eastern Air Lines, U. S. Steel, Goodyear, Norfolk and Western, American Water Works, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Schenley, Johns-Manville, Libby McNeill (on a pleasing dividend), American Tobacco "B" and Southern Railway.

Occasional stumblers were Youngstown Sheet, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, General Electric, American Can, Phelps Dodge, Chrysler, Anaconda, Baltimore and Ohio, Great Northern Railway and N. Y. Central.

Mrs. Isabella S. Leech Former Galionite, Dies

Special to The Star

GALION, April 11—Mrs. Isabella Sweeney Leech, 73, formerly of Galion, died in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Isabelle Snider of Columbus, at 12:45 p. m. Thursday. Born June 5, 1874, she was a native of Galion. Her husband, John Leech, died here several years ago. Surviving with the daughter in Columbus are three sons, Charles and John Harold Leech, both of Columbus, and Miles Leech of Canton, one granddaughter, and a sister, Mrs. H. E. Johnston of Columbus. Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 10 a. m. in St. Patrick Catholic church here by Rev. Father William Killoran, pastor. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary cemetery. Friends may call at the Snyder funeral home here Sunday afternoon and evening.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

I PRESSED my hand to my lips to suppress the glad exclamation which threatened to erupt at my father's little speech. I distinctly did not wish to interrupt him a second time.

"I did not intend to admit Philip Veritzen to this conference," the Chief said. "But he has helped me many times in the past, and his discretion is unquestioned. His simple word will assure me that he never will reveal anything that is said here tonight.

Will Take Responsibility

"Suppose I call him, tell him that I wish to see him concerning an intelligence problem that has come up, and ask him to come down? Then, when he comes, I will take the responsibility of telling him that while I did wish him to be a part of the conference, this question of guarding Mary had come up, and made it doubly imperative that we see him down here. Will that do?"

His smile told me that he knew his proposal was a good one, but I staged the necessary enthusiasm promptly.

"Do!" I exclaimed. "It is perfect!"

My father's smile at me was indulgent.

"Then I will telephone at once," he said, "and hope to win forgiveness for my black frown of a few minutes ago."

He went to the telephone, and in another half minute we heard a one-sided conversation, usually so unsatisfactory, but in this case made clear by my father's contriving.

An Important Problem

"Phil?" he queried. "This is Charles. Splendid, thank you. And you? Glad to hear that. I have a little problem on hand—rather, quite an important one. I can't say anything about it over the wire, of course, but I would like your advice, perhaps your help. I am down here in the Graham apartments. Margaret, Richard, the Bicketts, Jack and Katharine, and Dr. Twitchell are here. Can you possibly come down here for a few minutes?

"Mary? Oh, no, she is in the bedroom, under the influence of a powerful sedative which Dr. Twitchell gave her. He says she will not rouse before morning. Oh, I'm sorry to hear Olga has a headache. I should like to have her come also, but tell her I told you to relate to her every word said while you are here. Good! I shall be anxiously waiting to see you. Good bye!"

He replaced the receiver, and turned to us

"He'll be down at once," he said, "and with your permission, I will talk to him first."

"Nobody in this room is likely to take that job away from you," Dicky said, and my father permitted himself a wry smile.

"May I make a suggestion?" Katharine asked.

"Of course," my father told her.

"It will be better if Mary's door is closed during this conference," she said. "Now I already know all about this thing, and if anything new comes up, Jack can pass it on to me. Why don't you let me sit in the bedroom with Mary while the conference is on, and keep the connecting door closed?"

My father considered her proposal for a second. Then he smiled at her.

"That is a very excellent suggestion," he said, and Katharine and I promptly went into the bedroom. She crossed to the bedside and looked down at Mary. As she turned back to me, I saw that her lips had tightened.

Whispered Question

"Is she in such bad shape?" I whispered.

Katharine is always honest and direct, and I knew when she spoke that I was getting the truth.

"Right now, yes," she replied. "But the case isn't hopeless, by any means. We'll fight for her, you and I."

My constricted throat muscles kept me from answering her. Katharine shot a keen look at me, but wisely offered me no sympathy.

"Pull yourself together!" she admonished sharply, as she went with me to the door. "You'll need every ounce of intestines you possess to cope with Phil Veritzen," she reminded me as I opened it.
